Bloody Fighting Continues

Troops of Batista's Regime Claim Cuba Rebels Routed

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Army forces today smashed a rebel attempt to capture Santa Clara in central Cuba and are driving the insurgents eastward, the government said.

Rebel broadcasts conceded that the fighting now had moved north and east of that city controlling highways from Havana to eastern Cuba.

Fighters, bombers, artillery, tanks, armored cars and infantry were reported attacking rebels everywhere in Las Villas province, of which Santa Clara is the capital.

Yield to Tank Attack

A rebel broadcast said forces in the town of Cruces just west of Santa Clara "are no longer able to resist in the face of attacks by tanks."

Government sources put rebel casualties in the furious street-by-street fighting in Santa Clara at 3,000 killed or wounded.

Government losses were not indicated.

The rebels appeared to be in a bad way. One rebel commander was heard radioing urgently for reinforcements. The government is known to outnumber the rebels in Las Villas.

Rebel broadcasts, which had been saying the overthrow of Batista was imminent, stopped talking about the fighting in Las Villas.

The rebels claimed new successes in Oriente. They said they captured the city of Guantanamo, 27 miles north of the U.S. naval base of the same name.

Strongly Entrenched

Government air raids on at least five smaller towns in Las Villas confirmed that the rebels were strongly entrenched in the southern part of the province, whose rural areas they claim to dominate. Rebel control of Las Villas would cut the island republic in half.

The rebel radio also said insurgents had extended their holdings in Oriente province, at the eastern end of Cuba. Castro launched his guerrilla war against Batista from the Oriente mountains 25 months ago.

The government rushed thousands of fresh troops to Santa Clara, about 160 miles east of Havana. Tanks, artillery and warplanes are backing up the troops in fighting against an estimated 3,000 rebel foot soldiers.

Communications Disrupted

Normal communications with Santa Clara were disrupted and reports from there conflicted.

Reliable sources estimated the casualties at 3,000 and said they might go higher. A government source claimed aerial attacks alone had inflicted 2,000 rebel casualties.

Some government sources said the army was now cleaning up in the city, hunting rebels from house to house and warning civilians of a death penalty for aiding rebels. Many civilians had fled the city of 150,000 persons since street fighting began Monday.

Towns attacked by government planes in the last two days beside Santa Clara included Cruces, 20 miles west of the provincial capital; Cumanayagua, 30 miles southwest; Fomento, 25 miles southeast; Sancti Spiritus, 50 miles southeast; and Trinidad, 40 miles south.

Marine's Trial Is Expected To Conclude Soon

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—A general court-martial board today is expected to decide the fate of a Marine sergeant accused of pocketing money belonging to recruits.

Rebuttal testimony will wind up the three-day military trial of S. Sgt. Ralph Grant, 26, of Racine, Wis.

The New Year's eve proceedings were brought on by prolonged personal testimony Grant was forced to give Tuesday after he took the stand in his own behalf.

The searching cross-examination was aimed mainly at Grant's personal finances as well as at his money dealings with the Ohio recruit platoon he led last summer as senior drill instructor.

The prosecution also questioned the stocky sergeant about the two instances in which he is charged with hammering the heads of recruits with a plastic mess cup.

But trial counsel Walter D. Cummings, of Chicago, and the court-martial panel of seven Marine officers made it plain from

Makes Annual Report

Board of Visitors Says Repairs Needed to Home

The need for immediate repairs and attention to the Marion County Children's Home is pointed out in a report of the Board of County Visitors which was released today.

The board made its annual inspection trip to the County Home and Children's Home on Dec. 6 and its report was released this morning by Juvenile and Probate Judge Edward J. Ruzzo.

The board recommended that the county commissioners make an inspection trip to the County Home to see for themselves the repairs needed.

The board noted 12 instances of necessary repairs. They were:

Repair and redecoration of the boys' recreation room; repair of the door to the boys' bedroom; installation of a walk-in refrigerator; repair of the fire doors, especially the fire door on the boys' dormitory; installation of insulation around all windows and doors and the installation of storm windows and screens, the repair and painting of the ceiling in the girls' sitting room; redecoration of the activities room; installation of drainage tile around the north end of the building; acquisition of additional recreation equipment; repair of the floors in the game room, dining room and kitchen areas and, complete reconditioning of the basement rooms including the hall, toilet and shower rooms.

The report concluded with the observation that the entire building is in need of plastering and redecoration and generally is in a state of disrepair.

Only four items were noted in the board's visit to the County Home. Needed were the fencing in of a back yard area, replacement of lighting fixtures in the dining room, adding a toilet in the women's quarters and establishment of

Farmers Go To Jail After Tax Scuffle

Richland County Men Clash With Revenue Agents Serving Notice

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two Richland County farmers who contend an income tax is communistic are in jail today for scuffling with revenue agents. And their father's farm has been posted for sale.

Richard Kisling, 40, and his brother, Dale, 38, are charged with attempting to interfere with the administration of internal revenue laws.

Named in Lien

He has been named in a lien filed at the Richland County Court House, in which the Internal Revenue Service says he owes $190,247 for back taxes and penalties for the years 1942 through 1956.

The elder Kisling and his wife, Ruth, are on a vacation trip to Arizona.

The scuffle came when revenue men visited the farm on Ohio 97 to read a seizure order based on the tax lien. The officers said the brothers grappled with special agents John D. Relic and Frank J. Gavin Jr.

Agents Post Notice

After the men had been arrested the agents posted a notice on the property and brought the Kislings here. Upon conviction of the interference charge the maximum penalty would be three years imprisonment and a fine of $5,000.

Richard Kisling told a reporter that paying income taxes would further the communist cause. He denied attacking anyone and said "we were upholding our constitutional rights."

He declared also that income taxes stem from the communist manifesto of Karl Marx, and amount to a confiscation of private property. He said he has filed blank income tax forms for the last three years and his brother for the last two.

Hoffa Blocks Proposals for Police Pickets

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said today that Teamsters President James R. Hoffa has killed plans for a move by the union to cut off deliveries of vital supplies to police installations in this city.

The Times said Hoffa notified his local aides Tuesday that he would tolerate no interference with regular police operations as an outgrowth of union picketing of police headquarters.

The Detroit Times reported Hoffa told it Tuesday that New York aides were advised they could "advertise the unfairness of the police department by passing out handbills and that is all."

The Detroit newspaper also said Hoffa told it he hadn't been taken into confidence before announcement of the New York organizing drive, saying: "I didn't know a thing about it."

Plans of the much-investigated union to picket the police department stirred up a hornet's nest of criticism.

Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy said unionization of his force would make Hoffa police commissioner.

In an announcement Monday night, Henry Feinstein, a Teamsters official, said picketing of police installations would begin Jan. 12 in an effort to cut off fuel deliveries and other supplies.

Feinstein heads a nationwide drive, approved by Hoffa, to bring all policemen, firemen and other state, county and municipal workers into the union.

The reaction of State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz to the picketing announcement was: "I shall use the full power of my office to prevent unlawful interference with the police department or any other government agency."

Long Meeting Fails To Settle Shovel's Strike

Officials of Company, Union Hold 23-Hour Negotiating Session

A 23-hour negotiating session of representatives of the Marion Power Shovel Co., the United Steel Workers union and the federal mediation service ended at 8:30 a.m. today with no agreement reached toward settlement of the strike.

Following the termination of the latest and longest bargaining session in the long series aimed at settling the strike, now in its 16th week, both the company and union issued statements pertaining to their positions.

Says Demands Changed

A company spokesman said: "Our sincere efforts to negotiate an agreement failed because of the constantly changing demands of the union."

Speaking for the union, Edward de Lasalle, staff representative, said it appeared at about 1:15 a.m. today that a settlement was near "but the company threw in a bombshell to disrupt and confuse the issues."

Among other things, he said, the company insisted on a "provision or understanding" in any new agreement that "could prevent the return of older workers to the plant."

Says No Improvement Offered

"At the same time," he said, "the company offered no improvement in the economic package."

The company statement said that a suggestion for a final settlement, made by federal mediators Russell Turner and Ed Phil-

4 Bowl Games Slated

Rain, Sleet, Snow Likely for Holiday

A forecast of rain, possibly turning to sleet and snow by tonight, threatened to put a crimp in New Year's holiday festivities and make highways hazardous in most of this area.

In blunt summation of the weatherman's report: It will be a lousy night for celebrants who intend to do much driving, especially in the central and south central Ohio regions.

A GLUM prediction by the National Safety Council that 390 will die in highway smashups spurred law enforcement officers here to beef up normal patrols and issue stern warnings that it will be rough going for drinking drivers.

All available men and cars will be put into service by the state highway patrol. City police and sheriff's deputies also will maintain a sharp lookout for traffic violators.

The inclement weather, however, had given no signs of materializing by noon today. The sky was cloudless and the temperature stood at 27 after hitting a low of 20 last night. A peak of about 32 is expected today with a low of 26 in store tonight. A high of 34 is forecast for Thursday.

Football bowl games will be the big inducement for staying near television sets on New Year's Day. Four bowl games will be televised over two channels.

At Pasadena, Calif., Iowa's Big 10 champs will tangle with California in the Rose Bowl. That game will be carried over WLW-C, Channel 4 beginning at 4:45 p.m.

At 1:45, Channel 4 will carry the Clemson - Louisiana State contest from the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans.

The Orange Bowl game from Miami, Fla., features a clash between Oklahoma and Syracuse starting at 12:45 on WBNS, Channel 10. The same station will carry the Texas Christian-Air Force Academy tilt from the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Tex., beginning at 3:30.

BOTH THE Ohio and Palace theaters have New Year's Day matinees on tap for movie-goers.

The Ohio's first feature, "Roots of Heaven," begins at 1:30 p.m. It stars Errol Flynn with Juliette Greco, Trevor Howard, Orson Wells and Eddie Albert. "Gunsmoke in Tucson," the second attraction, starts at 4:43 and features Mark Stevens, Forrest Tucker and Gale Robbins.

Comedian Jerry Lewis teams up with Marie McDonald and Sessue Hayakawa in "Geisha Boy," start-

Traditions Observed Around Globe

World To Mark Advent Of 1959 in Many Ways

By The Associated Press

In New Orleans or New Delhi, Berlin or Buffalo, Santiago or Shanghai, tonight is the night to forget old troubles and look with hope to a new year.

Midnight will be greeted in many ways by many people as it moves around the globe ushering in another year. Undaunted by last year's broken resolutions, few will overlook an opportunity to turn away awhile from today's black headlines and hope 1959 will bring brighter ones.

There'll be fireworks atop Pike's Peak, a bonfire in Bangor, Maine, musket fire in Cherryville, N.C., and somewhere in the land there may be a chorus or two of "Auld Lang Syne" and perhaps even "Show Me the Way to Go Home."

In Tokyo, the Japanese are planning the biggest New Year's celebration since the end of World War II. They will pay off their old debts, get their hair fixed, take a hot bath and don bright new kimonos to greet their favorite holiday. It's the end of "The Year of the Rooster" and the beginning of "The Year of the Wild Boar."

Other Eastern nations — including Communist China — are planning traditional festivities.

The Red Chinese have reported big shipments of meats, cabbages, sugar, fish, chickens and fruits into Peiping, Tientsin, Shanghai and other cities for New Year's Day and the Chinese spring festival which follows soon after.

In Europe, there'll be the traditional celebrations, not basically different from American festivities, with similar repercussions the day after. In Moscow, it's the biggest holiday of the year with gift-giving and decorations.

President Eisenhower is planning to spend New Year's Eve quietly at home in Gettysburg, Pa., with friends and relatives. He plans to stay at his farm until the end of the week.

Allied Notes Delivered to Soviet Union

Russia's 'Free City' Plan for West Berlin Is Spurned by Big 3

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western Big Three called on the Soviet Union today to discuss the entire German problem, including Berlin's future, at a new four-power conference. They rejected firmly any such talks under menace or ultimatum.

In similar notes, the United States, Britain and France:

1. Flatly rejected Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal to turn West Berlin into a so-called free city.

2. Denounced as a violation of international agreements Khrushchev's announced plan to turn over Soviet controls in East Berlin to the East Germans.

3. Served notice the three Allies intend to keep their forces in West Berlin to protect the freedom and security of the more than two million West Berliners.

2,000-Word Note

In offering to talk over the German deadlock, the United States said in a 2,000-word note that it is "ready at any time to enter into discussions with the Soviet government."

The note emphasized that the proposed talks would not be on the Berlin problem alone, but should embrace "the wider framework of negotiations for a solution of the German problem as well as that of European security."

The note mentioned the need to talk over Western proposals for free all-German elections or "any other proposals genuinely designed to secure the unification of Germany in freedom."

No Date or Place Suggested

No date or place was suggested for the talks. Nor was there any hint of the level at which the discussions would be held.

Some Western diplomatic officials are known to be thinking in terms of a Big Four foreign ministers conference some time in the spring.

The note made clear that the United States rejects Khrushchev's threat to turn East Berlin over to the Communist East German regime some time in May.

It said of Khrushchev's proposal, made last Thanksgiving Day: "Public repudiation of solemn engagements, formally entered into and repeatedly reaffirmed, cou-

Alaska To Join Rest of Nation This Saturday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation gets a new state and a new flag Saturday.

President Eisenhower will sign the proclamation making Alaska the 49th state at a formal ceremony in the White House Saturday noon. He will fly to Washington for the purpose and return later to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm for the remainder of the weekend.

The new state enters the Union immediately. The new flag will become official next July 4, but flag makers in New York said Monday they would have a few of the 49-star flags available as early as next week.

The flag design will not be announced until Saturday. There was speculation it would consist of the present 13 stripes, with 7 rows of 7 stars each, in the blue field.

The design was picked from nearly 2,000 suggestions received by a screening committee.

Flagmakers are eager to begin production of the new version. They expect to have flags ready within a day or two, but not many. A backlog of orders has piled up.

The new design for the stars will not affect the proportions of the old flag. Manufacturers can tear out the blue field on present inventory stocks, burn it, and substitute the new blue background.

Flight Into Space

Reporter Describes 'Floating on Air'

By DOUG WALKER
Dayton Journal Herald Staff Writer

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—I floated in air.

Free floating, without touching anything but air, I could flip over, glide, stand on my head, or just lie there, all with a feeling of perfect security.

I can hardly believe it myself, but it happened during my trip into space.

Second of a Series

The people at Wright Air Development Center (WADC) who made my space journey possible and safeguarded me along the way say I am the first non-government attached civilian to free float at WADC.

Bob Doty, chief Journal Herald photographer, along to take pictures, became so fascinated he donned a helmet and became the second non-military man to do so.

10,000 Feet High

Actually it happened 10,000 feet above the earth in the cabin of a C131B aircraft.

Weightlessness—or zero gravity—is one of the items spacemen must deal with.

It can be duplicated partially on the ground with "frictionless platforms," and by passing an electrical charge through the head to disrupt the equilibrium.

But by performing a complicated maneuver in the air, it can be duplicated completely for a short time.

Believe me, it's out of this world.

We tied down all the movable equipment so it wouldn't float around in the airplane.

The pilots—Capt. Neal Garland and Capt. John Simon—were strapped in their seats.

Capt. Edward L. Brown, in charge of the operation, was strapped down or floated along with me during the flight.

Padded Cabin

The padded cabin of the plane is about 25 feet long, 8 feet wide and 6 to 7 feet high.

To become weightless, the plane started a dive at 12,000 feet. At about 250 knots airspeed it pulled up to a 35-degree climb.

During the pullup, it underwent a two and a half G force which pushed me down on the floor of the airplane as I lay there, waiting to become weightless.

It then arced, hit zero Gs, and I floated.

I pushed off with my feet against the wall on the cabin and went sailing forward through space. I would have sailed on into the front window of the airplane, but Capt. Brown grabbed me as I went by and pushed me back the other way.

Plane Completes Arc

The plane completed its arc, I settled to the floor and was pushed down again as the plane pulled up at a force of one and a half to two Gs.

We laughed about floating through space, it struck everyone in the plane as being funny. It looked so foolish and out of place.

Yet it seemed so natural to be floating, and there is a feeling of security about it. There is no fear of falling.

It's like swimming under water, but in air there is a great deal more freedom. The average person can do any type of acrobatic stunt at zero gravity.

Spins Through Space

Capt. Brown curled into a ball and simply spun through space. I tried a few spins. Sometimes I was upside down and could not tell which way was down.

Without gravity any way might be up.

You can float and it's fun, but you might choke on a glass of water. The water might float up your nose.

A cup of coffee will float off in little gobs of liquid. If you try to tighten a screw with a screwdriver, you will probably turn and the screw remain stationary.

A person could start spinning in space and not stop. If you begin a glide, you cannot stop unless you hit something.

They have some answers at WADC, and still are working on others.

The care and feeding of spacemen is possibly the first problem.

Lt. Col. William R. Turner, chief of the respiration section, physiology branch of the aeromedical laboratory, displayed a tube that resembled a tooth paste container.

Food or liquids could be stored in such a tube and squeezed into the mouth. Compressed foods in "lipstick" tubes that are pressed into the mouth also could be used.

Everything must be enclosed, or tied down, or else it may float away.

In making repairs, the spaceman must be strapped down, possibly at several points in order to operate a screwdriver.

After weightlessness came the eerie silence of space and the crushing heat of re-entry.

Blackness of Space

Now I was driving through the abject blackness of space—isolated from the world—in dead silence.

I was sealed in an anechoic chamber—a room about 7 feet wide and 14 feet long.

There is a refrigerator, chair, toilet and cot. Primarily the chamber is for testing purposes, to find reactions to isolation.

I lay on the cot listening and staring into the total blackness. I thought I could see my hand, although knowing all the while there was no light.

Never before had I known such silence. Ultimately, I want to sleep.

What Kind Can Endure?

What kind of man will be able to endure the silence and loneliness of space?

WADC scientists have learned quite a bit from the men who stayed in the dark, silent room for as long as a week.

The mind tends to wander in solitude. In absolute quiet with no light, there is not much to do but think. Some of those who have been alone in the room talk a great deal, others remain silent.

Some endure it, others get out.

Both Benefits and Tax Raised

Social Security Changes Go Into Effect Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP)—American workers will pay higher Social Security taxes starting Thursday, and more than 12½ million persons now receiving benefits will get larger checks.

Before the year is over, the tax increase will have affected an estimated 74 million workers, not all of them employed in any one period.

The tax rate goes up from 2¼ to 2½ per cent on the first $4,800 earned, effective with the first paycheck received in January. The tax currently applies to the first $4,200 of annual pay.

It is estimated that about 15 million covered workers will have to pay the maximum 27 per cent tax increase during 1959. Their levy will jump from $94.50 to $120, due to the combination of increased rate and higher taxable salary base.

Employers will pay the same increase as the workers, making the total Social Security tax run 5 per cent instead of 4½ per cent.

The rate for self-employed persons goes up from 3 to 3¾ per cent, also on a $4,800 taxable base. An estimated 1½ million will pay the maximum 27 per cent increase.

On the benefit side, a retired worker now getting the maximum of $103.50 a month will receive $116 a month, effective with his first 1959 check delivered during the first week in February. At the bottom of the scale the retired worker getting $30 will get $33.

Films of Hambletonian, Little Brown Jug Shown to Rotary

Marion Rotarians saw a United States Trotting Association motion picture on the 1958 Hambletonian and Little Brown Jug races during their weekly meeting Tuesday noon at Hotel Harding.

The picture had just been released and the showing here was the first.

Al Ehrans of the Columbus office of the United States Trotting Association spoke briefly, pointing out that Ohio stands high in the harness race world.

Tops in Foal Registration

The president of the USTA is Walter Michaels of Bucyrus, the speaker pointed out; Ohio has four large parimutual tracks and it topped only by New York, with six; there are more standardbred foals registered in Ohio than in any other state; Ohio leads all states in the number of fairs with harness racing (84) and the state had the world champion two- and three-year-old trotters in the season concluded in the fall.

The color motion picture depicted all heats of the Hambletonian, the trotting classic raced at DuQuoin, Ill., and the Little Brown Jug pacing championship at Delaware.

The speaker was introduced by Frank Foster, chairman of the trade associations committee of the club. Since the program was arranged by the vocational service committees, Mr. Foster described very briefly his own vocation as a sulky manufacturer (Houghton Sulky Co.).

He explained that the Houghton firm is the largest manufacturer of harness race sulkies and fancy buggies in the world, a position it has held for 50 years.

Approximately 80 per cent of all sulkies used in this country are manufactured by Houghton, he revealed.

Robert A. Bagley, general chairman of the vocational service committees, introduced Mr. Foster. The film was shown by Robert Terweld of the USTA photographic department.

Guests were introduced by Marion Shank.

Guests were: Max Carroll and Jax Carroll of Marion, C. D. Fales of Columbus, Joe Thompson of Sandusky and John S. Miller of Upper Sandusky.

Mt. Gilead Area Man Injured in Auto Crash

A Mount Gilead area man was injured in a two-car collision on Rt. 42 just south of Mount Gilead at 6:10 p.m. Tuesday, state patrolmen reported today.

James E. Stahl, 76, sustained lacerations of the face, nose, chin and possible chest injuries. He was taken to Morrow County Hospital for treatment.

According to the report, his southbound auto struck the rear end of a stopped car driven by Grover Fissell, 40, of near Cardington. He was waiting to make a left turn onto Rt. 61.

Extensive damage was done to both vehicles. Officers said Stahl was charged with failure to stop within assured clear distance and cited to appear in Mount Gilead Mayor's Court.

Significant Progress Made on Sewers, Traffic Here in 1958

Two Big School Surveys Show Need for Expansion

Sewers and traffic dominated the local news in 1958, as they did in the preceding year.

Significant progress toward expansion of the city's sewer system was made in 1958 through creation of the first county sewer district and building of the district's first sewer. City Council paved the way for a major traffic improvement in 1959 by asking state highway department cooperation in putting into effect the principal recommendations of the Browne and Roberts traffic survey which was first presented to the city in February, 1956.

The sewer district was created by act of the county commissioners on March 13. Set up to facilitate building of sewers in suburban areas, it encompasses a district adjacent to the southwest section of the city. The district, through the commissioners, contracts with the city for sewage disposal, and agrees to abide by construction standards set by the city.

THE DISTRICT'S first sewer was built by A J. Buday, building contractor, to serve his Royal Oaks development, the Zachman-Vernon addition, the Plaza shopping center and the County Home.

Many obstacles were overcome before the sewer was completed in November, including vetoes by Mayor Wendell L. Strong on necessary legislation. But the vetoes were overridden in council

The traffic program also was opposed by the mayor, but again his veto of necessary legislation was overridden. Council decided to shoot for the one-way street recommendations in the Browne-Roberts survey, letting the proposed underpasses go until more funds are available. The $500,000 traffic project calls for directing north-south traffic onto State and Prospect streets, and east - west traffic onto Center and Church streets. It will involve street resurfacing and some new construction at crossover streets. In November, the highway department's Division 6 in Delaware announced the project had been included in the department programming for the 1960-61 biennium. Approval of the governor, Federal Bureau of Public Roads, and appropriation of funds by the State Legislature is necessary before work can begin.

DISCUSSIONS OF annexation and a city income tax also made news in 1958.

In March, a council committee announced plans for a study of the annexation of 546 acres of high-value industrial land west of the city which had a tax valuation of 7.2 million dollars. But in May, the committee decided to drop the plan, believing that the city government would not get enough additional revenue from the land to offset anticipated higher costs of police and fire protection In June, a petition of Vernon Heights residents for annexation to the city was rejected by the county commissioners. When filed, the annexation petition had names of more than half of the affected property owners, but some withdrew their names so that less than half remained in favor of annexation when the petitions were considered.

Council heard two income tax experts in studies of this form of revenue and in late fall directed the mayor to make a report of the financial needs of the city to determine if such a tax would be necessary here The mayor had not made his report at year's end.

The year saw the opening of two new shopping centers — Bargain City on Rt 4 north of the city and the Marion Plaza east of town on Rt. 95.

The National Can plant on W. Center St. went into production in January, and the Quaker Oats Co. added a bakery to its Ken-L Products plant across the street. The Overhead Door Co. went into production on E. Fairground St. The Marion Water Co. started a $201,700 improvement, and the United Steel Workers built a new $107,000 hall on Uncapher Ave. McMillen Feed Mills expanded its storage facilities with construction of a new type of giant storage bin.

Two swimming pools were constructed. The Marion Olympic opened in August east of the city near the County Home. The old Lincoln Park pool was rebuilt, but not in time for use during the year.

FINDINGS OF two extensive surveys highlighted news in the educational field. The surveys were made by the Ohio State University Bureau of Educational Research—one for the city and one for the county.

The city survey recommendations, made April 21, called for a two-phase building program to meet the needs of an ever-expanding enrollment.

The bureau suggested that first priority be given to construction of a new $360,000 elementary building in the northeast section of the city and purchase of a 10-acre site for a new grade school in the southwest. It also suggested an addition for the N. Main St. building, a step which was undertaken in the summer.

Recommendations for the future were: construction of a new $350,000 grade school in the southeast; razing of the old section of Silver St. School and building new classrooms there at an estimated cost of $430,000, and razing of the old Oak St. building and constructing a new $345,000 school in that area.

THE COUNTY study, presented Aug. 6, recommended merging of the 10 local school districts into a single county district and organization of separate elementary, intermediate and high school programs. In effecting this program existing buildings would be utilized and two new high schools would be constructed.

The bureau suggested that elementary centers be maintained at LaRue, New Bloomington, Meeker, Morral, Grand Prairie, Tully, Caledonia, Claridon, Waldo, Prospect, Green Camp and Pleasant. These would serve children in the first six grades.

Intermediate centers, for pupils in grades 7 and 8, were suggested for LaRue, Claridon and Pleasant.

The high schools would be at Ridgedale, which would have to be expanded, and new ones to be located in the east, along Rt. 98 between Routes 95 and 30-S, and in the south somewhere north of the intersection of State Rt. 4 and County Rd. 203.

At the year's end, the county board of education made plans to carry findings of the survey to each individual local board of education through a series of meetings.

Enrollment in city, council and parochial schools reached an all-time high in September of 12,895 pupils.

THE YEAR marked the emergence of Harding High School as a state football power. Exploits of the 1958 team in winning nine straight games made Page One news and earned the Presidents the best-in-state rating of United Press International and second place ranking of The Associated Press. Coached by Gordon Larson, the team brought Harding its first all-victorious season in the history of the school. Two earlier teams had gone undefeated but had tie games marring their records.

A foiled break-out at the Marion Correctional Institution and the robbery of Milo Hill, well-known Kirkpatrick area gunsmith, topped the local crime news.

On Sept. 26, Eugene Neckar, 30-year-old ex-inmate, tried to force his way into the institution north of Marion to free an inmate serving a life sentence, but was shot with his own gun in a scuffle with Clem Strohl, 53, of Cardington, a prison guard. Both Neckar and Mr. Strohl were hospitalized, the latter with injuries incurred in the fight. Neckar was sentenced later to a 28-year term in prison.

Five men were indicted in the April 23 robbery of Mr. Hill, who died later in the year of gun wounds. Four of the five were convicted and sentenced; the fifth was freed. Sentenced were Lawrence Sheline, 29, of Columbus, Donn R. Lyle, 27, of Columbus; Richard L. Moss, 24, of Columbus and Daniel E. Wells, 22, of Carroll. Ralph F. Fetherolf, 21, of Columbus, who testified for the state in trials of the first two, was freed.

THE LONG STRIKE of Marion Power Shovel Co.'s W. Center St. plant by Local 1949, United Steel Workers of America, dominated the labor news.

The strike began Sept. 9 and was still on at year's end.

Contract difficulties between the company and union developed in May, after members of the union had already agreed to terms of a new two-year pact calling for an immediate 5-cent hourly wage boost, another 5-cent boost in 1959, and a 7th paid holiday. But before signing the contract, the union had second thoughts, and ended up rejecting it.

Negotiations were held throughout the summer and continued after the walkout of the 1,400 union members began.

At the start of the strike, the chief disagreement was on a seniority issue but at year's end, the principal disagreement appeared to be over wages. After a week of negotiations in Cleveland in early December, the union and company bargaining teams announced tentative agreement had been reached on all non-economic issues, provided subsequent agreement was reached on economic issues.

But on Dec. 12, the union members rejected the company's "final offer" on economic issues. The offer called for an immediate 7-cent hike (including the 5 cents granted in May), 8 cents in 1959, and 8 cents in 1960.

Other unions having representation at Shovel plants signed contracts in early summer and were not affected by the strike. These were the USW Local 2627 (office workers), the IAM local at Osgood, and the Moulders and Foundry Workers local at Commercial Steel. Contracts called for immediate 5-cent boosts, 4 cents next year, and a 7th paid holiday.

Other strikes during the year were called by Local 1981, IAM; at Huber-Warco; the IAM local at Marion Metal Products; Local 1947, USW, at Alloy Cast Steel, and the USW local at the Overhead Door Co All were settled.

Reaching agreement on new contracts without strikes were: Local 2721, USW, and the Pollak Steel Co, where 400 workers accepted a pact calling for an immediate 6-cent boost and another 6 cents in 1959; Boilermakers Local 1667 and Eaton Manufacturing Co., a three-year pact calling for an immediate 5-cents boost, 6 in 1959 and 6 more in 1960, and Local 256, United Cereal Workers, and McMillen Feed Mills, a contract calling for an immediate 13-cent hike and 9 cents in 1959.

On Nov. 20, the Marion Division of the Whirlpool Corp. announced a wage increase of 5 cents for incentive employes and 6 cents for non-incentive employes, and a similar hike in the following year.

THE 1958 growing season got off to a soggy start, threatening a duplication of the poor year in 1957, but the weather turned out fine for wheat, oats, soybeans, hay and rye. Record yields were set in these crops, and corn yields were just under the record set in 1954.

The weather played some tricks in early December when a mass of polar air hovered over the countryside, sending temperatures to record lows for the period. The coldest official reading here was 13 degrees below zero, set on Dec. 10.

The Democratic tide in November swept under Luther L. Mitchell, veteran Republican county commissioner, who was defeated by Calvin Retterer of Waldo, but Kenneth A. Robinson, long-time Marion County representative to the Ohio General Assembly, survived. District Republicans stemming the tide were Jackson Betts of Findlay, re-elected as 8th District congressman, and J. E. Simpson of Forest, re-elected as state senator from the 13th-31st District. Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith and County Auditor Maurice Clements (R) were re-elected without oppositon.

A $500,000 bond issue to pay for a fifth floor at Marion General Hospital was defeated, as was a county operating levy.

A new record in voter registration was set at the deadline prior to the Nov. 4 election. Registration totaled 27,261 — 17,857 in the city and 9,404 in the county.

FIRST SEWER IN NEW DISTRICT. Contractor A. J. Buday is shown checking plans for the first sewer in the new Sewer District 1 located on the southeast side of the city. The photograph was taken Sept. 9 as work began on the sewer, which serves Mr. Buday's Royal Oaks subdivision, the Zachman-Vernon addition, the Marion Plaza and County Home. The privately-built sewer connects with an extension of the Forst Lawn Blvd. trunk constructed at the same time.

Local Woman Fined

Bessie Davis, 34, of 562 N. Main St., was fined $25 and costs in Marion Municipal Court Tuesday on a charge of disorderly conduct. It was one of three charges filed against her by city police. She was given a suspended fine of $15 and costs on a charge of intoxication and the third charge of resisting arrest was dismissed on condition that she pay for repairs to the arresting officer's uniform.

Year's Activities Reviewed

Painter's Killing Shocked Galionites

GALION—Murder, fire, a steady growth and expansion of the city and national publicity, gave Galion few dull moments in 1958.

The city was shocked Aug. 16 when a painter, 51-year-old Merl Ireland was shot on the back-porch roof of the Herman Christman home by Ralph Burger, 54-year-old neighbor of the Christman family, as Mr. Ireland was getting ready to paint. Burger since has been committed to the state institution for the criminally insane at Lima.

Sensational news was made on July 10, when 49-year-old Stanley "Red" Fulton was killed in a gun battle with Galion police after he shot at a Galion patrolman and missed when police went to arrest him on Galion's east side. Fulton's housekeeper, Mrs. Emma Hill Craner was hospitalized from a beating Fulton allegedly had given her before police were dispatched to the home.

POLICE CHIEF Morris Bowers had his life threatened by both Burger and Fulton during events that transpired in both accidents.

On Sunday night, Aug. 31, a tiny baby girl, Terry Lynn Gilmore who lived her first eight days of life without food or water, was found in a cardboard box where she had been kept on a basement shelf since her mother gave birth to her unattended. Her miraculous survival and the progress she made at Galion Community Hospital under special treatment ordered by the physician made the nation's news wires. According to the American Medical Association in Chicago no records exist of a similar case.

The biggest fire of the year in Galion was the spectacular blaze on Sunday, Dec. 7, when an industrial landmark, the E. M. Freese & Co. plant, operated since February, 1957, by the Starkey Machinery, Inc., was destroyed. Loss was estimated at more than $200,000.

The year started off with the swearing in of a new mayor, Republican Edward H. Jones, and five new councilmen. The first baby of the year, a girl, was born Jan. 1 at Galion Community Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heiser. Early in the month, Mrs Frank Kirtland was found in her home asphyxiated by gas fumes from a forced air furnace as the result of a clogged flue.

DURING THE year Galion got a new postmaster, Lloyd Secrest, who was apopinted July 21; a new superintendent of schools, J. Harold Blosser; a new business manager of public schools, Dwight L. Musselman, who was the former school head, and a new high school principal, Harold Friar.

Galion High school athletic teams came into the spotlight when the 1957-58 basketball team and the 1958 football team won the championships of the Northern Ohio League. A Galion High School senior, James Friar, was high scholastically locally, in the district and in the state. The school system also was successful in the passage of 13.1 mill school levy in November.

Miss Minnie Kreiter, chosen nurse-of-the-year and Dr. Mart L. Helfrich, the oldest practicing physician, both members of the same graduating class of Galion High School, 52 years ago, were honored for long and faithful service to the community at Galion Community Hospital in May.

While City Hall was issuing building permits for construction of homes, church additions, and business and industrial buildings, estimated at a total of $1,203,965, new achievements were made by the city administration.

ADDITIONAL LAND, 71 93 acres, was purchased for expansion of the Galion airport, annexation of Timberlane estates of over 71 acres, annexation of No. 2 of the Harding Way E. allotment, process of annexation of 13 acres in allotment of Mrs. Fred Hessenauer, establishment of a Planning Commission, creation of a Park Recreational committee of nine men, extensive repairs and improvements to city parks, a summer recreational program for children in city parks, approval of a house numbering system for new additions, expansion of the city electric light distribution system, construction of sewers and street improvements, were among the many achievements in the city.

Building permits for housing alone in Galion were estimated at $611,200 through November.

The Galion Trouble Clinic made the pages of the Readers' Digest in May, and several religious magazines including an article by Galion High School Principal Harold Friar in a newspaper syndicate series for the Lenten season,

GENE L. KEENER of Stow became executive director of the Galion Chamber of Commerce, April 16.

The state baseball finals of the Little League were played in Galion Aug. 7 between Ashland and Elyria.

Two citizens, the Rev. Philip E. Auer and Ralph Cobey, were honored with doctorate degrees in Ohio colleges.

Among the tragic deaths reported were: the drowning of Paul Yochem, 63, in the New York Central reservoir,, Jan. 16; John T. Chase, 25, of near Galion, killed Mar. 28 near Marion in auto accident; Harland Eckstein and his wife killed near Caroline in an aupto-truck accident and daughter critically injured, July 30; Don Walker, two years old, killed by a car south of Galion as he was leaving mail box; Gwenn Thorn, four, killed when she ran into the rear of passing light truck on W. Church St., Sept. 24; Eddie Kunkel, eight, killed by car west of Galion, Oct. 6; Howard Wesley Ginn, 61-year-old NYC crossing watchman killed Dec. 8, south of Galion in truck-car accident. Richard McCallister, 21, killed Dec. 23, east of Caledonia.

Mrs. D. O. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Adams were round-the-world travelers from Galion in 1958.

FIRST INDUSTRIAL Day in Galion brought several top defense officers of the United States to Galion in November.

New telephone equipment and numbers in effect in Galion on Sept, 21.

Among the prominent Galion citizens who died during 1958 were A. F. Unckrich, industrialist; Miss Hulda Klopp, the oldest business woman in Galion and proprietor of a Galion store; Lloyd Casey, Harry C. Dye, Miss Mary Mather, J. B. Robinson, Joseph McManes and Leslie Crissinger.

United Appeal went over the top with $49,589 in pledges and collections. The goal was $41,000.

Good Use Found for Old Yule Trees

They Help To Fight Soil Erosion in Arroyos In New Mexico

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP) — Experts have written that one of this nation's greatest threats is the loss of priceless soil to erosion.

A little band of Los Alamos people, enlisting the aid of the honorably discharged Christmas tree, have been doing their bit for several years now in an effort to fight erosion here. They would like to see the idea catch on at a statewide level and more.

INSTEAD OF casting the Christmas tree into bonfires or the incinerator or the neighbor's back yard, people in Los Alamos save theirs for the members of the Izaac Walton League and the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts. These organizations see to it that the old trees are dumped systematically in places where they can contribute to soil conservation.

Dave Shaffer, a leader in the Izaac Walton League, estimates that the Christmas tree plan has resulted in the conserving of several hundred tons of soil in the last three years.

AS PEOPLE of Los Alamos have become acquainted with the plan, cooperation has increased to the point where they practically demand that their trees be collected, Shaffer said, and the task of collecting has become much easier and requires less time.

The collecting plan begins at the Cub Scout pack level, with members of the dens and packs collecting the trees placed in the yards of their particular neighborhoods. They are taken to a central location, from where the Izaac Walton League members and Boy Scouts truck them to arroyos in the Los Alamos or Bandelier Monument areas.

The trees are dumped into arroyos with their trunk ends facing upstream. They are packed down thoroughly, thus providing a trap for drifting silt and pebbles and sticks.

Shaffer says that one big arroyo about five or feet deep and a mile long has become overgrown with grass and weeds since the plan was begun three years ago, silting has practically ceased, and the arroyo has filled up to the stage where in another year or so it will be about levelled over.

Shaffer said league units in Colorado and in Las Vegas and Espanola are pursuing similar programs.

"WE ARE REAL proud of what we have done, and there is no doubt about the program's benefits," he said. "We would like to see the idea catch on elsewhere. With a little volunteer effort by such groups as the Scouts and the league, it seems like such a wonderful thing to do with the discarded Christmas trees — so much better than burning them up."

CONSERVATIONIST'S CHRISTMAS. Los Alamos members of the Boy Scouts and Izaak Walton League prepare to unload truckloads of discarded Christmas trees. They are anchored in arroyos where they check further erosion.

Sack Dress Is Dead

Men Win in Fashion Struggle of '58

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

This was the year when husbands won the battle of feminine fashions. Never has there been so much talk about women's clothes, never so much male attention to dresses. The rise and fall of the sack dress made the fashion headlines of the year—and the whole thing was refereed by men.

When practically every woman in America stepped out last summer in her new chemise, the masculine catcalls could be heard from coast to coast. Cartoonists had a field day with the various silhouettes—the balloon, the barrel and the gunnysack. Wives resorted to tears, daughters paid no attention and designers looked thoughtful.

BY FALL THE chemise was as dead as its 1929 original and the new look once again recognized the basic outlines of the feminine figure — somewhat adjusted, but still recognizable. Empress Josephine became fashion's new dream girl, with the Empire silhouette the new look for one and all.

This also occasioned some difficulty for fashion commentators, who teetered between pronunciations. The new mode has been called variously Ohm-peer, Umpire and plain Empire, with the American—not the French—accent.

What it means is high-waisted, with the belt just below the bust, and little definition of the normal waistline. The line has persisted throughout the wardrobe—in suits, coats and dresses. Suits have brief jackets and skirts hung on camisole tops, to give freedom and an easy line around the waist. Coats also are belted high if at all and dresses run to drawstrings or sashes just below the bosom, with skirts hanging straight and usually loose—no skin-tight sheaths.

THE FUR HAT came into its own on a mass-production basis this winter—every woman had to have one. With it was worn the three-yard fur boa, replacing the mink stole in many quarters as the nation's favorite fur accessory. The fluffy fox furs were favored, often even above mink.

Shoes went in for higher cuts, with some approaches to the high-buttoned styles of long ago. Toes were so pointed as to become lethal weapons, and the hazardous stilletto heels caused so much grief for wearers and shoe repairers alike that a number of modifications appeared—the shorter, sturdier baby French or spool heel among the most popular. Needle heels, when used, developed new safety factors, such as steel shafts, guaranteed not to break. But women who wore them still had to be wary of gratings and cracks in the sidewalk.

HAIRDOES followed the Empire vogue, going fluffy and upswept, often with topknots. Women who couldn't wait for their hair to grow resorted to wigs, and sometimes you couldn't tell a hat from a wig, with milliners turning wigmakers and hair stylists designing headdresses.

Jewelry ran to long, dangling earrings and multiple strands of beads, with big jeweled brooches definitely back in vogue.

Since no undue roars of rage were heard from the male population when the new Empire styles appeared, designers breathed sighs of relief, and went ahead with plans for more of the same for next spring.

As for the women stuck with a closet full of sack dresses, things turned out not to be so hopeless after all. They just bought belts or sashes and wore them six inches above the waist. Voila—the Empire look!

Woman Doesn't Want Lawyers To Be Friends

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Mrs. Betty Powell was being examined for possible jury duty when she voiced her objection to the courtroom friendliness of the two opposing lawyers.

Then Judge Thomase Troland quoted to her from Shakespear's "The Taming of the Shrew":

"And do as adversaries do in law, strive mightily, but eat and drink as friends."

Mrs. Powell was excused from duty.

Professor Finds Classes In Arabic Really Scarce

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Instruction in Arabic is offered by only 23 out of an estimated 1,800 American institutions of higher learning, a survey released here shows.

Prof. Menahem Mansoor of the University of Wisconsin Department of Hebrew and Semitic Studies conducted the survey. He pointed out that Arabic is the tongue spoken daily by more than 65 million persons of the Middle East and the sacred language for 250 million people of the world.

'A' for Effort at Coliseum

The Woman's Hospital Board benefit dance, known as the "Charity Ball," was held at the Marion Veterans Memorial Coliseum for the first time Monday night and was a huge success.

The large, modern building handled the gala holiday crowd as it should be handled, and there's every reason to believe the dance will become a fixture at the Coliseum.

Monday's party, annually the highlight of the holiday social season, demonstrated clearly to the nearly 1,000 people in attendance how beneficial the Coliseum can be to this community.

The county commissioners and the Marion County Agricultural Society have been struggling valiantly to keep the building in operation despite the heavy debt with which it is saddled.

Paul Augenstein Jr., fair board president, has appointed Ed Fellmeth, Joe Vogel and Calvin Oborn of the board to supervise the Coliseum maintenance and use.

Most of the fair board members labored personally to clean up the building prior to its decoration by the hospital board members, and Mr. Fellmeth was the fair board representative in charge of the Coliseum for the dance.

The fair board members lay no claim to being professionals in the management of a sports and entertainment arena, but they certainly are trying hard.

Organizations in the city and county can show their appreciation best by making maximum use of the building.

Some time the only answer for placing the Coliseum on a healthy financial basis may be an operating levy for that purpose.

If that step had been taken when the building was constructed, it probably would not have fallen into the dire financial straits in which it is found today.

Everything but the Main Thing

In his warming-up exercises for the 1959 battle of the budget, President Eisenhower has let it be known that spending for defense must not and will not be reduced and will be larger in all probability.

That pretty well takes the steam out of the President's assurance that income and outgo can be balanced, starting July 1.

It is the same as saying Congress can search for buried treasure as long as it does not dig in the ground. The only hope for a balanced budget when spending for defense accounts for more than half of all spending is in military expenditures. All the relatively small cutbacks that might be made elsewhere are of no importance compared with the overwhelming size of the defense item.

But because the armament race with the Soviet Union has become an obsession, Congress is not likely to argue with Mr. Eisenhower that military spending is untouchable. Representatives and senators will be inclined to agree with him; they will be inclined to spend more money for defense, not less.

They would need to spend more, not less, to make up for the shrinkage in dollar value, even if no new activities were started and if all the shifting back and forth among existing activities came out even. Inflation is as much to be feared as economy.

The only sure way to reduce defense spending would be to get rid of the armament race with the Soviet Union, and that is not likely.

But a taxpayer in the United States can wonder as he reads about the cancellation of missile projects that have not panned out and the obsolescence of the B-36 bomber fleet whether the armament race, itself, is not subject to closer control and tighter planning. It is axiomatic, at least among taxpayers who wear civilian clothes, that there is no point of satiety in military spending. The militarists never have enough, and they always can justify their demands for more with the threat of what might happen if they were caught short.

Nothing panics a congressman like the thought of being stingy about national defense. It is this instinct of political and national self-preservation that has made defense spending untouchable. Yet, until it is made as touchable as any other budget item, the possibility of balancing the budget without tax boosts, which also panic congressmen, is too remote to be worth considering.

Who's the Inept Politician Now?

Whether the Democrats blasting President Eisenhower for playing politics with the budget know it or not, they sound silly.

If the kind of politics they mean is the kind that puts the other fellow on the defensive before he can get in the first lick, the man they have been accusing of a lack of savvy has beaten them at their own game.

By taking his stand on the budget first, he has put them on the defensive. He has left them no choice but to scream that his arithmetic is unrealistic; that he cannot balance the budget at 77 billion dollars and that he should not be thinking about a budget in balance at all, because Democrats intend to keep it out of balance anyway.

When they say this, they confirm what he said about them when they swept the election in November — that they are coming to Washington to set up a spendthrift regime and must be resisted by everybody with an interest in financial stability.

"Amen," say the Democrats, in effect. "That is exactly what we aim to do and we are hopping mad at Dwight D. Eisenhower for being opposed to it."

This may be good politics for Democrats. It may be better than the politics they accuse him of playing by getting in the first blow of the budget battle. But by putting them on the defensive — by making them explain why the budget cannot be balanced —the President has taken himself off the political spot and invited his opponents to make fools of themselves.

Between now and next June 30, while Democrats are unbalancing his balanced budget, he can let them explain to the country what they are doing. It will not be easy. It may not be popular, either. The inept politician caught the old pros napping.

Water, Fire and the Automobile

The seasonal hazard of water that causes a disturbingly high death rate from drowning during the summer holidays — Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day—has its wintertime duplicate in fire.

Though the statistics are not complete and cannot be thought of as completely reliable even when a total has been agreed on, upward of 50 persons were killed by fire over the Christmas weekend.

This hazard has been more conspicuous this winter than usual, because of unusually low temperatures. Fire prevention experts know that risks which might claim no lives under ordinary heating conditions always are multiplied in extremely cold weather; when furnaces and heaters are used to the limit.

Yet, safety from fire is not beyond attainment, even when it must be attained under less than ideal conditions, as is true of many dwelling places that are heated with inferior equipment. Like safety from highway hazards, the answer is in vigilance. Most fires are caused by human carelessness, much of it in the form of failure to learn what possibilities of danger exist.

There is evidence, too, that in residential fires many fatalities are caused by failure to have a predetermined plan for getting out of the building if a fire starts. Victims are claimed for lack of the simple precaution of having been told in advance what to do if an emergency arises.

Fire is by no means as dangerous as water, which claimed 27 per cent as many victims last Labor Day as lost their lives on the highway. But at a rate that is running a strong 17 per cent, heating is the third most fearful hazard, exceeded by highway travel by auto and the water sports of swimming and boating.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Dear Mom: Well, I was nervous about Khrushchev's threat to declare war on the United States if we did not get out of West Berlin but I just got news that makes me feel better. It says Pfc. Elvis Presley now has a German $7,500 sports car trimmed with black and white leather.

In addition, he has his Cadillacs, a palace, his own guards and personal staff and I don't think the Ruskies would attack against this sort of opposition. I understand this puts us ahead of the Soviet Union in white and black leather upholstery.

THE GERMANS CALL the car a "Presley-Wagen," which should be warning enough to Khrushchev. Elvis got the sports car at his woodland palace while a great crowd of fans looked on, cheering in support of the free world, high horsepower, guided autographs, guitar players and muscular twitches.

I guess it made Moscow stop and think before making any more threats.

The scuttlebutt is that in case of a war over West Berlin, Presley and his sports car would go in first, with his several Cadillacs in reserve. Me and the other GI's who have no musical reputations would have to fight with regulation Army weapons, with no black and white leather trimmings.

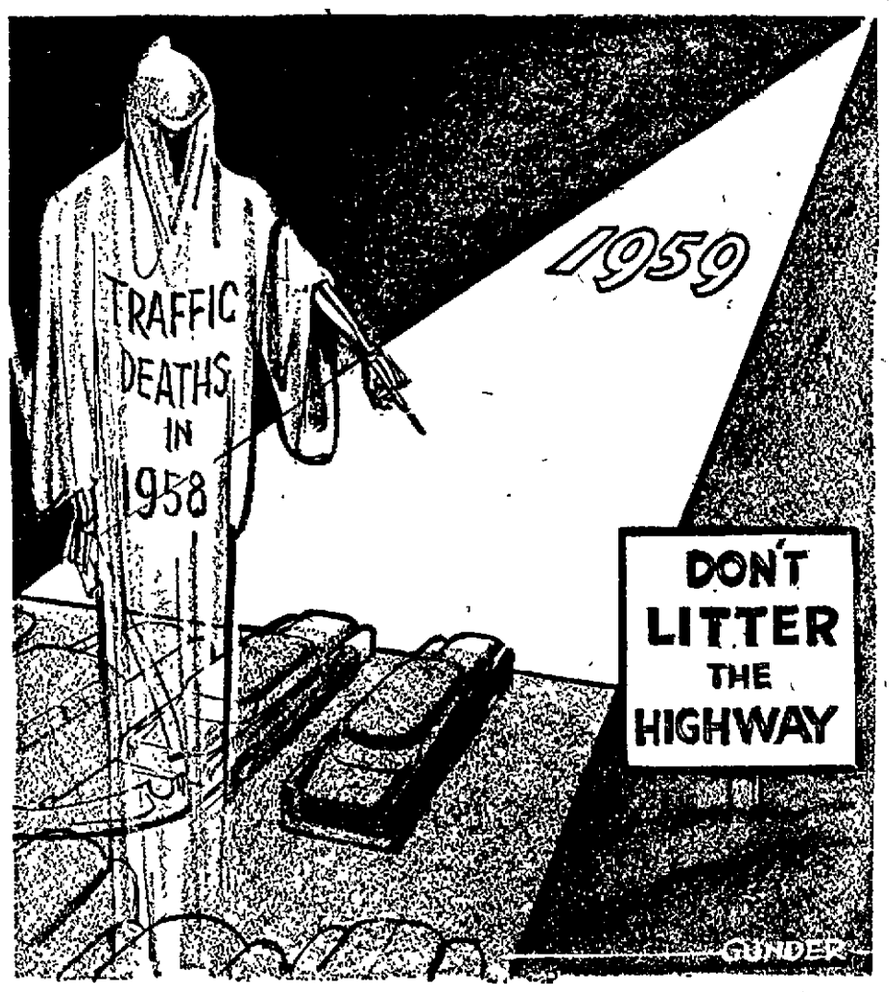
But I guess we should be glad to know Elvis is clearing the way ahead of us with his auto fleet, personal entourage and some new songs which Russia has not yet been able to develop. It is five years behind us in auto upholstery, for one thing.

I GOT YOUR LETTER asking why I did not have no Cadillacs, palaces and secretarial staff and asking if I wanted you should take it up with the Army back home. I think you had better lay off, as the Army knows what it is doing and may think we would of won the last war quicker if our boys had Hollywood experience, better housing, less KP duty, etc.

Do not worry. Elvis may be the Army's secret weapon. Anyhow, a word of sarcasm about him will get you a flood of abusive letters.

It is okay to criticize the President, Gen. Norstadt, the secretary of defense, De Gaulle, Dulles, Churchill and NATO but to put the knock on Elvis Presley in a cold or hot war is sacrilegious, libelous, unconstitutional and dirty pool.

A New Road



Stabilizing Step

By David Lawrence

People sometimes complain that the run of the news in the world is pessimistic or unfavorable and that certainly there must be some good news somewhere. Today there is news of a decidedly encouraging nature but it will not be so obvious to the average reader because it happens to concern the complexities of international finance. When, as was made effective this week, the British pound sterling is freed from some of the restrictions by which it is exchanged with the currencies of many of the countries of Western Europe as well as with the United States and Canada, it is an event of transcendent importance.

Lawrence

When also, as has just been announced, the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund together increase their loanable funds by 15 billion dollars, it's like launching a powerful missile on the economic front of the "cold war."

Not only does all this mean increased opportunities for exports and imports all around but the very fact that several nations in Europe are to come together in what is called a "common market" to reduce trade barriers and tariffs is in itself a milestone on the road of recovery from the effects of World War II.

THE BIGGEST significance, therefore, attaches to the fact that Western Europe is able now to initiate economic and currency reforms.

This represents a triumph for those officials in the Truman and Eisenhower administrations and those members of both parties in Congress who have insisted ever since the close of World War II that Europe could be put on her feet only through continued aid by the United States, symbolized by the Marshall plan of 1947.

The policy has proved successful. Those of us who remember the failure of the United States after World War I to recognize that the seeds of a future war were being sown in the economic and financial chaos that enveloped Central and Western Europe now see a point of view vindicated as essential steps are being taken to prevent a third world war.

The strengthening of the economy of Western Europe has far more than just material implications. It means that the bulwark against a third world war has been strengthened. A stronger economy in the whole of Western Europe gives the Soviet Union a rival in every sense.

WHAT HAS just happened in Europe affects not only France, which has strengthened its monetary unit — the franc — but Great Britain, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland.

On top of all this comes the Washington announcement that the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund have provided an additional buttressing of European currencies as well as those of Latin America and other countries in the free world.

Investors everywhere will now furnish more billions as they buy the bonds of private projects, knowing that the various governments have established through the World Bank the available resources to guarantee the ultimate payment of such private loans.

Best of all, the Soviet Union is put on notice that it must do something for its satellites or else face the intensification of pressures within East Germany, Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Bulgaria.

These countries will become restive as they see their neighbors — also small countries — thriving in the new economic era.

If there is uneasiness in the satellite countries, it will be reflected inside the Soviet Union.

To sum up, Western Europe is today on a firmer economic basis than at any time since the end of World War II in 1945 and becomes a stronger competitor in world trade than at any time since 1939. American capital will build more plants and make more investments in Western Europe.

It is more important than ever that the United States maintain a balanced budget and a stabilized dollar. The news on the whole is decidedly encouraging for the people of the free world.

Advice to Celebrators

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Advice to celebrators:

This is the night of opportunity —the opportunity of living to see New Year's Day dawn.

HAL BOYLE

Many won't make it. But you can. All it takes is a little care and forethought for the next 12 hours or so.

Then careworn old 1958 will be behind you, and you'll be alive and eager—well, alive anyway—to face the challenge of the brave new world of 1959.

Many people honestly want to survive New Year's Eve, but don't know how. Here are a few tips for the careless liver:

Sell your car this afternoon. If you sell it, you can't drive it to a party tonight.

IF YOU CAN'T sell your car, lend it to a neighbor and let him drive it to whatever party he's attending. If someone has to get into an accident, better him than you.

Take an airplane trip to Europe. Statistics prove there are fewer safer places on New Year's Eve than aboard a commercial plane flying over an ocean.

Has your doctor been bothering you for years to have your tonsils or an ulcer cut out? Why not have the operation done tonight? The nurses would rather welcome you as a routine patient than an accident case.

If you are a serious drinker, be proud. Remember, New Year's Eve is for the amateurs. Stick to ginger ale this night. Then you can have the fun of watching the beginners make fools of themselves.

IF YOU ARE the last to leave the party and are walking home, don't cross in the middle of the block. In fact, don't cross any street anywhere. Just walk around the block until the sun comes up.

Personal safety suggests you avoid discussing the following topics at a New Year's Eve party: National politics, baseball, football, sex, and such questions as who's the prettiest girl in the room. Topics you can feel free to give your views on include the weather, income taxes, and why hasn't the government done more for the whooping crane?

Some people feel the urge to adventure with weird new drinks at New Year's Eve parties. If this temptation overwhelms you, try vodka and epsom salts. It is non-habit-forming, and you will wake up Thursday with a clear head.

The best thing of all to do is to stay home, toss the cat out at 10 p.m., bolt and lock the doors and windows, take a sleeping pill and go to bed. You are not only safe from all forms of revelry and personal tomfoolery — you can't even be hit by lightning.

Happy New Year's Eve. See you Thursday.

1958 Year of Uncertainty

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The little guy, any little guy going home this New Year's Eve, looked back on 1958 and could hardly see it. It wasn't much of a year, a kind of ho-hum year, a real second-rater, as years go.

Nothing was settled. It was a kind of in-between year, full of things left over to be settled later. It was like a boy carrying a bunch of packages from 1957 to 1959.

He had mixed feelings about it, and about himself too: both glad and uneasy.

When the recession hit, it was like being missed by lightning. Millions of guys lost their jobs but he kept his. He knew a recession is like lightning. It would hit again some time. Next time it might not miss him.

There was something to be uneasy about. Not too uneasy, but a little unsure, like all the times on the way to work when he wondered if he had put out that last cigarette before he left the house.

There was one thing didn't make him happy: it was the feeling that in the whole year he should have done more with his life. Maybe he could have done better if he were smarter, or thought harder. Baloney.

HE HAD THIS same feeling of time being wasted at the end of every year. No reason to. This was the way he was; he had no illusions: he had realized long ago he'd never set the world afire. So why feel disappointed?

He knew he felt smaller in 1958 than in any year of his life, and the world looked bigger. He felt less and less a part of things, more and more left out. It was easy to tell when that started with him.

It was in the fall of 1957 when the Russians sent their first Sputniks up. It was like being thrown bodily into a new world and he was unprepared for it. He had spent his whole life earthbound, looking down, not up.

The Sputniks were like a can opener: they lifted the lid on a whole new world over his head and men were talking of sailing out into it, to the moon and even to the planets beyond.

All of a sudden scientists were the princes of the new order, the guides to the future, the magicians of time and space. He wished his kids would fit into the new world coming, better than he knew he'd ever be able to.

He told himself: "You sound a little phony, moaning about all you don't know about space and rockets and things like that. How much do you know about what's going on around you down here?"

IT WAS A good question. He knew he wouldn't get high marks on that one either. There were too many things happening in too many ways and in too many places for him to know more than just little pieces.

Politics, for instance. He knew American politics pretty well. He could spot a big mouth in an empty head as fast as the next guy. What about economics? He was glad there was no one around to pin him down on economics. But then even the economists themselves never seemed to agree. So he felt he could sound off on prices and wages without sounding too bad.

But he really bogged down when he began thinking of what went on between the United States, and the Soviet Union, and Red China, and other countries. Then he didn't know what to think.

WAS ANYBODY—say the United States or the Soviet Union—getting ahead of anybody? He knew all the talking, all the dickering, was just preparation for something. He didn't know. Maybe he'd never know in his lifetime.

He was living better than he had ever lived. He liked to think it would always be like that: better every year. Not so much for himself. For his kids. He didn't know. He couldn't be sure.

All he knew, when he reached his house this New Year's Eve and went inside, it wasn't so much like closing a door on a year as it was like closing a door on just another day.

Farewell to Weather

By Truman Twill

I have too much mental scar-tissue to be naive about weather any more, but while everyone is postmortoming 1958 I want to nib in with a closing insult!

"The weather was lousy."

There may be meaner ways to say what it was, but "lousy" comes to mind when I think of all the summer days when rain fell, sometimes in torrents, sometimes in drizzles, sometimes in mists — but always.

The rainfall made the grass grow. Precipitation became a dirty word by midsummer.

When the grass quieted down after the first hard freeze, which was premature and knocked off everything that was good-looking, there were only a few short weeks until it began to snow. The ground at our place has not been in sight since the Friday after Thanksgiving.

I have plowed and shoveled more snow this winter than the entire road-clearing crews of border states like Tennessee. Between bouts with snow, I have worked out herocially on the coal pile and the ash heap.

All the projects I had lined up for winter Sundays have had to be put off indefinitely because the ground is frozen stiff and everything is locked fast in snowdrifts or ice floes.

All of which is leading up to the only New Year resolution I can think of that is worth making at my stage in life.

I do hereby resolve that I will not ever again expect anything but the worst from the weather, being of sound mind and therefore convinced it does not pay to court disappointment by looking forward to anything else.

When good weather ensues, if it does, it will come as a pleasant surprise — a boon, a morale-builder, a free ride and an unexpected pleasure.

Christmas Day this year, for example, was an unexpected pleasure —as nice a day as anyone could have dreamed about. The sky was blue, the sun was bright and warm and the snow just right for a Christmas card effect. It wasn't supposed to be that way, but it was.

And that brings up the subsidiary clause in my New Year resolution:

I do hereby resolve that I will not ever again, except on pain of physical injury, lend my ears or my eyes to any weather reports appearing in daily newspapers, on television and radio, or in magazines, where so-called long-range forecasters purport to tell what is going to happen for the next six weeks.

Weather cannot be predicted on a local basis, which is the only basis that matters. There is not, therefore, anything to be gained by adding to climatic complications as such the mental confusion of meteorological guesswork. I do not care what it is doing in Cold Toes, Minn., or Hot Flashes, Ariz.

It will be better just to expect the worst locally from day to day, feeling happy when something better than the worst materializes.

With this thought I leave 1958, which was lousy weather-wise and no bargain otherwise. I do not expect 1959 to be any better. If it is, I will leap with joy.

Crawford Fair Board To Seek New Cafeteria

BUCYRUS — Crawford County Fair Board members drew up a formal request at their regular monthly meeting here Monday night for the erection of a new cafeteria building on the fairgrounds.

The request will be presented to county commissioners by members of the board's building committee sometime next month.

Fair board members reported the present cafeteria building will be used in the future as an art hall as the former art hall is being torn down because of its age and deterioration.

Several members also will meet with Sheriff Elwood Jacobs in the near future in an effort to work out a plan to provide additional police protection at the fairgrounds during the fair.

Numerous complaints have been received by fair board members during the last five years of thefts and vandalism during fair week and the possibility of organization of a sheriff's posse to curb such activity was discussed.

Because the fair will be in session this year on Sunday, Aug. 2, board members voted not to start the day's activities until noon. However, the grounds will be open on Sunday morning and regular admission charges will be in effect throughout the day.

Treasurer Albert Stetzer reported the current balance in the treasury is $2,031.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have reason to believe there is something going on between our 18-year-old son (a high school senior) and the maid in our home.

She claims to be 26 years old (she's probably older) and I admit she's good-looking in a country-bumpkin sort of a way.

I first became suspicious when he began to carry out the trash for her and do small errands which he never did for me or the other help. When he canceled plans to go out with his pals upon learning my husband and I were going to a movie, unexpectedly, I was convinced he wanted to stay at home for the wrong reason.

The maid is pleasant and extremely competent. I would hate to dismiss her. The boy has his own car and could easily meet her elsewhere, so this would not really solve the problem. What do you suggest?—CHANTILLY.

You can't police an 18-year-old boy every living minute. On the other hand, you can't permit this sort of thing to go on under your roof and pretend not to see it.

I suggest you tell him you're aware of the situation. Don't sermonize or he'll probably deny everything and kill the possibility of an effective discussion.

Explain to him how a boy his age could get into serious trouble and perhaps ruin his life by becoming involved with an older woman. Point out the sobering fact that he's an open target if the woman should decide to shake the family down for money. This practice is an old one.

Of course the maid should be dismissed at once. And make certain the next one is a nice, middle-aged, motherly type.

Keep Insurance Paid

Dear Ann: What can I do about a husband who is stubborn as a mule and refuses to listen to medical advice?

He has bad ulcers and was told to ease up on smoking at least before breakfast. He pays no attention and reaches for a cigarette before he opens his eyes in the morning.

He has a heart condition and should have ample rest. Yet he stays up half the night playing cards or bowling. Then he dashes out of the house in the morning like crazy and runs three blocks to catch the bus.

He's 40 pounds overweight and won't stay on a diet. I've pleaded with him, his doctor has warned him repeatedly and our clergyman has talked to him but it goes in one ear and out the other. What can I do for such a man?—ROSETTA.

Dear Rosetta: There's nothing you can do for such a man. But you can do something for yourself. See that his insurance is paid up.

Read Riot Act

Dear Ann: You've heard from many women whose husbands are mama's boys. Well, my problem is somewhat different—my wife is a brother's girl.

Two years ago I married a lovely, charming young lady of 22. (I was 27.) Her mother and dad live several hundred miles away but she rarely speaks of them. Her entire life revolves around her brother. I think family devotion is fine but it is ruining our marriage.

Brother is unmarried, has a good income and is 26 years of age. He lives 500 miles away but he's here so often people think he's a member of our community.

When he isn't here, she's there. On the spur of the moment she'll get on a plane and go to visit him. When he had Asian flue she went there for three weeks. Last year he visited here or she visited there a total of 205 days.

He sends her money frequently and I resent it. We don't need financial help. What shall I do?—STYMIED.

Read the riot act. Tell her if she doesn't grow up and behave more like a wife and less like a sister, she can take all her clothes and stay with Brother. Put an end to the money gifts at once. And if you know of an attractive young gal fix her up with brother and hope for the best.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

$11,078 Given In Christmas Seal Campaign

Contributions in the annual Christmas seal sale sponsored by the Marion County Tuberculosis and Health Association have reached $11,078, roughly $4,000 short of the goal, Dr. Frederick T. Merchant, drive chairman, reported today.

He said the amount donated to date falls short of last year's figure at this time by approximately $750.

Contributions represent answers from about 6,000 of the 18,000 letters mailed to city and county residents in request for financial support of the local program, Dr. Merchant explained.

Unless more money is forthcoming, it may become necessary to curtail certain association services such as the annual visit of the mobile X-ray unit, he said.

A total of $15,000 is necessary to carry out the work of the organization during the coming year, he said. This activity includes case finding, rehabilitation, health education, X-rays through the mobile unit, the monthly chest clinic at Marion General Hospital and tuberculin testing programs.

Although today marks the general close of the seal campaign, contributions will be accepted at any time.

Dr. Merchant noted that donations of any amount will be appreciated, including those given as a memorial to a loved one. Anyone wishing to contribute and who did not receive a letter during the campaign, may send his gift to the association, care of Box 265, Marion.

The physician urged that donors insert their name with a contribution to avoid needless followup reminders by mail.

Singing of carols was led by Carrol Louise Issler, devotions were by Henrietta Barlow and recreation was conducted by Juanita and Peggy McNeal followed by refreshments served to 42 members and guests. Earlier in the month the group attended a service of carols and candles at Emanuel Church in Marion. After an evening of caroling in Prospect a party was held at the Robert McFarlin home Dec. 16.

Harding Suffers 72-69 Defeat at Hands of Lorain

Last-Period Rally Halted by Steelers

Harding High School's Presidents turned in their top performance of the season Tuesday night at Lorain but suffered a 72-69 loss to a classy, sharp-shooting Lorain Steeler squad.

It was the second loss of the season against five victories for the Presidents and gives them a 2-2 mark in Buckeye Conference action. In other conference contests Tuesday night, unbeaten Elyria rolled over Sandusky 63-50 and Findlay's Trojans routed Fremont Ross by a 61-33 margin.

THE PREXIES trailed throughout most of the contest but grabbed a 56-55 lead early in the fourth quarter on a pair of free throws by Stan Larkin. Then Dennis Lavish connected on a long jump shot and Ed Kingsley added a free throw for a 58-56 Lorain lead with 5:01 remaining. Lavish added another two-pointer before George Kirk scored to cut Harding's deficit to 60-58 with exactly half of the last period remaining.

It was nip and tuck from that point. Mike Chamberlain knotted the count at 60-all on a tipin but Bill Karpinsky hit a two-pointer for Lorain. Chuck Campbell dropped in a free throw but Dan Belu hit from the field for a 64-61 Lorain edge. Bob Zaletal and Larkin traded field goals for a 63-63 count.

With 2:13 showing on the clock, Lorain's Zaletal fouled out. Chamberlain dropped in the free throw and then added a technical foul called against Lorain to cut the Prexies' deficit to 66-65. Kingsley and Chamberlain each dropped in two foul shots but another Harding foul gave Karpinski two free throws. He hit both for a 70-67 Lorain lead with 1:25 still to play. Chamberlain connected for a fielder to cut the lead to 70-69 but Lorain's Kulic's clinched the verdict with a fielder from the corner.

THE STEELERS spurted into an early 3-0 lead but the Prexies came back to knot the score. From that point, Lorain raced into a 10-3 lead and finished the first period with a 21-14 margin. The Steelers threw up a full court press to hamper the Harding attack.

The Steelers held a 10-point lead through most of the second stanza before Chamberlain ended first half hostilities with a long desperation shot as time ran out to slice Harding's deficit to 40-32 at the half.

Harding came blazing back in the third stanza to outscore the steelers by a 20-15 margin. That spurt sent the Presidents into the final eight minutes of play on the short end of a 55-52 count when they started their spurt.

Coach Don Knodel uncovered some new offensive wrinkles designed to break Chamberlain loose. As a result, the lanky senior forward, pumped in 29 points for individual scoring honors. Larkin added 18 to the Harding cause. Four cagers hit in double figures for the winners with Lavish and Zaletal each collecting 18. Karpinski had 16 and Kingsley finished with 11.

TURNOVERS continued to hamper the Harding offense. The squad was charged with 21 during the contest. Lorain flashed a deadly attack from outside, led by Lavish and Karpinski and dropped in 16 of 21 free throws. Harding converted 15 of 34 charity throws.

Student tickets for Saturday night's Ashland contest at the Harding gym will be on sale at the door before the game. School officials decided not to hold a pregame ticket sale due to the vacation. The tickets will be sold at the regular 50 cents student price.

The Harding reserves recorded a 61-55 decision in the opening game. Three players hit in double figures for Coach Al Beach. Dave Haas was the big gun with 16 markers while Pete Porietis added 12 and Dan Wendell collected 12. Kulics was high for the losers with 14 and Merritt scored 10.

Unbeaten, Untied Harding Gridders Highlight Local Sports Scene in '58

Larson Takes Top Coaching Honor After Sweep

Marion sports fans will remember 1958 as the year which saw Harding High School climb to its rightful place among Ohio's High School football powers.

The Presidents, under the leadership of Coach Gordon Larson, rolled to the first undefeated and untied campaign in the school's history. Two other teams had finished unbeaten but ties marred both those records.

In rolling over nine straight foes, Larson's charges gave Harding its first Buckeye Conference championship as well as nailing down the No. 1 rating in the United Press International news service's high school football poll. The Prexies were rated No. 2 in the Associated Press standings.

THE YEAR WAS climaxed by the selection of Larson as Coach of the year by both news services and the naming of Co-Captain Bob Middleton, an offensive and defensive end, as the state's No. 1 lineman. In addition to Middleton, Harl (Rocky) Evans, Harding's other co-captain, was named to a first string halfback berth on the AP-Ohio team. Mike Chamberlain was named to a third team end berth while Gary Massie, Harding's mamouth tackle, and scatbak Johnny Lawson were awarded honorable mention ratings.

The Presidents flashed one of the state's most potent offensive machines, rolling up a 326-68 scoring edge over their foes. The Prexies opened the season with a 32-0 romp over Cleveland Glenville and followed that by sinking Fostoria 48-12, Lrain 30-20, Dayton Roosevelt 40-0, Elyria 22-16, Findlay 38-0, Ashland 56-14, Fremont 40-6 and Sandusky 20-0.

The 1957-58 basketball campaign also was a highly - successful one at Harding. The Prexy hoop squad finished the year with a 13-7 record, best since the 1942-43 season when Harding won 13 and lost 4. The 1957 season ended when Harding fell to Mansfield 63-50 in tournament action after dropping the Tygers during regular season play.

Jim Gibson resigned after two years at the Harding helm to accept a business position and Don Knodel, a native of Hamilton, was named to succeed him. Thus far this year, Knodel's charges have won five and dropped only one.

At Marion Catholic it was an off year. The Irish gridders won four, lost three and tied two while last year's basketball squad posted an 8-10 record.

OVERALL IT was a big year for Marion cage fans. Pleasant, Prospect and Caledonia battled to a three-way tie for the Marion County League title with Prospect clipping Pleasant 63-40 in the championship game of the county tournament. The county was without a representative after district tourney action was concluded but still had reason to cheer during the state tourney at Columbus.

Frank Truitt, former Mount Gilead coach, led his Columbus North squad into the state event and shocked the basketball experts by upsetting the might Middies of Middletown 63-62. The following night Truitt's charges fell to Cleveland East Tech 50-48 in a double overtime championship battle.

Little Holmes-Liberty of Crawford County gave area residents more thrills when it battled its way to the Class A championship battle. Coach Clarence Jewell's charges clawed their way to a 59-46 victory over Pleasantville in the semifinal game only to fall 60-56 to Northwestern in the title battle.

Boxing made a return to the Marion sports scene during the past year with two amateur fight shows staged. The first show was held at the Marion Correctional Institution's ring with the second moving to the Coliseum. Both drew fair sized crowds with the proceeds going to the Fraternal Order of Police in its drive to erect a new gymnasium and recreation building on W. Fairground St.

The YMCA continued its expansion of athletic activities, offering sports for all age groups. Stealing most of the thunder, however, were the wrestling and swimming teams.

THE YMCA wrestlers nailed their second straight Ohio-West Virginia crown and also won the Marion Invitational title as well as the All-Ohio League championship. Seven boys won state championships, including Bill Thatcher who won 26 straight matches by pins. Les McMurray, Mel Perry and Jim Jones also were unbeaten while Joel Lenavitt, Clyde Thomas and Dale Kibbey brought home state titles.

The intermediate swimming team finished second in district action after a successful season. Breaststroke ace, Dennis Ruppart, became Marion's first All-American swimmer and won a scholarship from Michigan State University.

During the spring and summer months, golfers flocked to both local courses in record numbers but the biggest golf development was the opening of Marion County Club's new nine-hole addition. The addition, used this summer for the first time, gives Marion its first full 18-hole layout.

James Chill retained the Marion Star trophy by downing Robert Hastings in the Marion County Open tournament. Chill completed the 4-hole battle with a 239 while Hastings recorded a 240. Hasting, earlier had won the Marion Country Club's men's title by downing Joseph Whelan in a 36-hole playoff. Mrs. Delmore Martin won the women's title at Marion Country Club downing Mrs. Wayne Kuhn in the finale.

THE DELAWARE Dam recreation area continued to show expanded use from Marionites and other central Ohio residents. Fishing and boating enthusiasts flocked to that area as well as Lake Erie resorts every weekend during the outdoor season.

Hunters also enjoyed a banner year as the state wildlife department continued to stock the Delaware area and the Killdeer Plains with pheasant and other wildlife. During the short deer hunting season at least three deer were downed in Marion County, all in the New Bloomington area.

Another successful softball season was climaxed by the closest Little World Series in recent years here. League titles were won by Calvary in Church League action, Marion Independents in Commercial League play, Erie in Industrial League No. 2 and Marion Power Shovel in Industrial No. 1.

In Little World Series play, the Independents clipped the MPS nine 1-0 after 16 innings and Calvary bumped Erie 3-1 in 14 frames during the opening round. The Independents went on to take the title by downing MPS 8-2 in the finale.

Tennis action made a revival on the local scene during the last year. Court action was an important part of the city's recreation program and several tournaments were held. Dr. William Van Riper nailed down the singles crown in adult action of the city tourney with George Wood and Stewart Norric taking the doubles crown. Keith Kirts walked off with the singles crown in junior action and then teamed up with Fred Shaffstall for the doubles title. Liz Besinger was the girls' champ. Kirts and Jerry Griffith won doubles honors in the clay courts tourney with Shaffstall nailing the singles crown.

THE BASEBALL for Boys Commission continued expansion of its program with five teams in action. League championships were awarded as follows: Baker Wood, Federal League; Schiff's, National League; National City Bank, American League; Moore's, Pony Grad League, and Alloy Cast Steel, Pony League.

Another top-notch performance which surprised no one was Ken Somerlot, Harding track coach. Somerlot, as usual, came up with a pair of powerhouses. His track team hiked its unbeaten dual string to 60 straight, covering an 11-year period. The Prexy runners finished fourth in the Springfield Relays, 10th at the Mansfield Relays, second in the Ohio Wesleyan Relays and won their eighth straight Marion Night Relays title.

FINAL VICTORY EFFORT. Coach Gordon Larson was hoisted to the shoulders of his gridders after a 20-0 victory over Sandusky here Nov. 7. The victory gave Harding High School its first unbeaten and untied grid season. The football season was Marion's biggest sports development during 1958. Larson later was named coach of the year in Ohio high school action.

Alex Olmedo Beats Cooper for Crown

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—Alex Olmedo, a modern, racket-swinging miracle from far-off Peru, recaptured the Davis Cup for the United States today and in the process shattered Ashley Coopers world amateur tennis throne.

In a fantastic exhibition of poise and court craftsmanship, the 22-year-old national collegiate champion from Southern California smashed the Australian, Wimbledon and U.S. champion 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 8-6, to send the coveted cup back to America for the first time since 1954.

Dayton Star Defeated

The final count of the Challenge Round was 3-2. Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, was beaten by Mal Anderson in the final singles 7-5, 13-11, 11-9. This was an anticlimax, for Olmedo, practically an unknown here, had clinched it when he whipped Cooper.

It was Alex who sent the U.S. hopes soaring when he gave them the first point with a victory over Anderson, then teamed with Ham Richardson to send the Americans ahead again in the doubles with a victory over Anderson and Neale Fraser after the Aussies had tied it when Cooper licked MacKay.

Finally, it was this young son of Peru—the first foreigner ever to represent the United States in Davis Cup competition — who squashed the world's greatest and brought the cup back to the United States.

Jones' Faith Justified

After winning the final game at love, Olmedo rushed into the arms of 70-year-old Perry Jones, the U.S. captain, who has been his benefactor and tutor since he arrived in the United States. It was the wily Jones who insisted that Olmedo be made a member of the team over the objections of some members of the cup committee.

The Aussies had been overwhelmingly favored to retain the trophy they won seven of the past eight years. This was the greatest upset in the history of Davis Cup competition.

Carey Romps To 74-61 Win Over Vanlue

CAREY — The Blue Devils of Carey Coach Bill Heath won their third game in six starts Tuesday night by trouncing visiting VanLue 74-61.

The Wildcats were, it turned out, beaten at the foul line. Carey posted 27 goals out of 60 attempts for 40 per cent and lofted in 20 of 32 free throws for 62 per cent. VanLue, getting 28 of 87 chances from the field for 32 per cent, managed only five of 22 at the charity circle for a percentage mark of 22.

Pacing the Carey attack was John McDaniels and Tom Greer who got 22 and 18 points respectively. Don Wentling added 13. Powell Prater posted 18 to lead his VanLue mates. It was the fourth loss for the Wildcats in eight outings.

By JOHN CROSBY

Is Maverick a Western?

Is "Maverick" really a Western? The Maverick brothers, Bret and Bart (played respectively by Jack Kelly and James Garner), have been playing hob with the ratings of Steve Allen and Ed Sullivan and even occasionally Jack Benny and that leads to a lot of loose talk that the cash customers who buy soap want only Westerns.

JOHN CROSBY

Actually, the Mavericks hail from New Orleans, are gamblers by trade and ply their shady profession all over the globe, including (quite recently) the South Seas.

If "Maverick" is a Western, it is one with a large wink.

Much of the time the authors seem intent, not so much on doing a Western, as on ribbing the pants off Westerns.

I recall one script called "Gun Shy" which seemed intent on ridiculing the whole genus Western.

THIS IS the way Marion Hargrove, the author, starts it:

"This one is a little like the vignette they use on one of those low pressure Saturday night Westerns but the similarity wasn't noticed until it was too late to do anything about it.

"We can only hope that nobody watches television on Saturday nights. Our own vignette opens on a long shot of a Western street: empty, silent and tense. A wide behind with a large revolver hung on it, crosses the frame so close to the camera that its practically polishing the lens.

"The large gunman who is the town marshal, pauses for a shot in the foreground and we note that he is facing another man who stands way down at the far end of the street.

"Suddenly the marshall does a lightning draw and fires at the heavy down the street. Then he looks puzzled as if he were missing some blue pages in the script and fires five times more. The guy at the far end of the street is still standing there. He leans toward us and calls out. We recognize the pleasant helpful tone as the voice of our hero, Bret Maverick:

"'Shall I stand a little closer, marshall?'"

THE WHOLE TONE, in short, is quite a lot different from "Gunsmoke. (Imagine Mat Dillon missing six shots! The whole social fabric of the West would come unstuck.)

This particular episode was a bit more of a spoof on Westerns than most of them. The cast list, for instance, read in part like this:

FREDDIE HAWKINS — A mature cockney gentleman with black eyebrows and store-bought hair. A thorough-going thief, a congenital and gifted liar, a crafty and seasoned schemer of the highest criminal type.

MORT DOOLEY — Town marshal of Ellwood, Kan. Large grim humorless and a sitting duck at all times.

AMY WARD — Thirtyish and decollete, the typical hard-but-wholesome lady saloon-keeper.

FIRST INDIAN — Who has trouble understanding this Indian-talk jazz.

This particular caper dealt with a search for buried treasure in which Mort Dooley (shades of Matt Dillon) kept running Maverick out of town. Ran him out about four times. Every time Mort would buckle on his guns Amy would lay her hand on his arm, look up at him soulfully, and say: "Be careful, Mort."

THE MAVERICK brothers are incessantly mixed up in shady enterprises but they never profit from them, far as I can see. In this particular one, Bret finally found the treasure which turned out to be Confederate money.

Not long ago, the Mavericks did a free-hand version of an old Robert Louis Stevenson story called "The Wreckers." In this one they get hold of a wrecked ship in the South Seas, only to dump the opium overboard virtuously instead of taking it back to the States and selling it.

In short, they are con men with a heart of gold — which limits the take pretty drastically. Their upbringing seems to have been done by Pappy, not Mommy, and their talk is constantly interlarded with such pearls of wisdom as: "I promised Pappy I'd never take a drink or a steady job." Or: "As Pappy always said — Faint heart never filled a flush." Not, you notice, an inside straight. Pappy had more sense than to encourage that sort of idocy but he did teach the youngsters to welcome adventure, provided the odds weren't hopelessly against it.

Just the same a series that pokes fun at such sacred things as "Gunsmoke" indicates—not that Westerns are on the way up — but just possibly that they are on the way down.

No Free Coffee

WEST PATERSON, N.J. (AP) —The local police headquarters will not be among those in the state offering free coffee to motorists on New Year's Eve. "I don't want to encourage any drunks to drive all the way to the police station for a cup of coffee," police chief Antonio Barra said. "They're liable to kill themselves on the way."

Returns Uniform

LONDON (AP) — James Sims, 27, on the run from Pentonville Prison since Dec. 22, sent back his uniform with this note to the jail governor: "I don't think I'll be needing these in the new year."

MARIE TORRE
Held in Contempt of Court

TV Columnist Takes 10-Day Jail Sentence

NEW YORK (AP) — Marie Torre, radio and television critic of the New York Herald Tribune, chose today to serve 10 days in jail rather than disclose for a federal court the source of one of her stories concerning singer Judy Garland.

U. S. Dist. Judge Sylvester J. Ryan ordered Miss Torre to surrender at 10 a.m. Monday to begin serving the sentence.

She is the mother of two children.

A test case of a newsman's right not to divulge the source of a news story has been made of Miss Torre's refusal. She would not reveal the source of an item in a column she wrote which resulted in a libel suit against the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Judge Ryan noted today that his sentence, imposed in November 1957, had been affirmed by the U. S. Court of Appeals and that the U. S. Supreme Court had refused to intervene in the case, thereby upholding his ruling.

Judge Ryan asked Miss Torre's attorney, Mathias Correa, if the columnist realized that after she served the jail sentence she could be called upon again to answer the questions and again be sentenced to jail if she refused.

Correa said he had so informed his client.

Judge Ryan said Miss Torre had an additional obligation as a journalist whose writings influence public opinion and declared she should not be allowed to defy the courts.

However, he emphasized his reluctance to commit the 34-year-old columnist to prison.

"I don't want to commit you, unless you compel me to," Judge Ryan said.

Judy Garland filed a suit for $1,393,333 in federal court against CBS March 15, 1957, alleging libel and breach of contract.

Car Insurance Rate Increase Hit by DiSalle

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle is displeased with the outgoing state administration for granting an increase in auto insurance rates just before leaving office.

DiSalle told a reporter for the Columbus Ohio State Journal Tuesday one of the first acts of his incoming insurance superintendent, Edward A. Stowell, will be to study the increase. But DiSalle said once the rates are established "rollbacks create many difficult problems."

Stowell said the rate hike "seems to have some implications. It looks like they may be giving them enough of an increase to last for four years."

DiSalle said it would have been better "if the matter had been deferred until we had a chance to look at it. Anything like this in the dying days of an administration is always suspect, even if there are good grounds for action."

DiSalle said also he is considering splitting the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction into two separate agencies. The Democratic-controlled Legislature would have to legislate such a change.

"I don't believe we have kept pace with penal developments," said DiSalle. "There is a definite relationship between mental hygiene and correction . . . but I don't believe that relationship is sufficient to justify keeping them in the same department."

Progress Report Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Office Building Commission has authorized its chairman to report to the governor by Jan. 15 on a summary of its work so far, including progress made on selection of a site for a new 15-million-dollar state office building here. Following a meeting Tuesday, there was some talk of having the commission's architects make a preliminary report on three possible sites.

U.S. Mediation Board Urges Arbitration in Airline Walkout

Government Pressing for Agreements

Urges Parties Take Immediate Steps To Settle Long Dispute

By The Associated Press

Old strikes continued to plague two of the nation's major airlines on the eve of the new year.

Government officials showed signs Tuesday of increasing annoyance with the prolonged disputes at Eastern Air Lines and American Airlines.

The National Mediation Board sent a strongly worded recommendation to Eastern and its striking flight engineers to take immediate steps to settle the strike, which began Nov. 24. The board urged arbitration, if necessary.

Sees Federal Law

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) suggested the strike of pilots at American could lead to federal legislation outlawing strikes in transportation industries.

The threat of a walkout against a third major line — National Air Lines — diminished somewhat when the Airlines Ticket Agents Assn. formally accepted an offer from the national board to mediate the association's dispute with the company.

The association is preparing a strike vote against National in protest of the dismissal of an agent in New York.

The national board told Eastern and the engineers in a telegram that "your economic tug-of-war must come to an end . . . (You) must now yield to the right of the public to have adequate air transportation by agreeing on a peaceful method to settle this dispute."

Board Suggests Action

The board suggested that all engineers return to work "without discrimination and with seniority unimpaired." Talks should be held for five days, the board said, and then a settlement should be signed, with all issues still unresolved going to arbitration.

Eastern accepted the recommendations promptly on condition the striking union did likewise.

The engineers said they made counterproposals embodying what they called minor changes in the mediation board's suggestions.

A federal mediator has been conducting separate talks with each side in the latest stages of the deadlock.

The engineers struck to protest a company demand that they qualify as pilots for jet runs. When a federal court ruled this was not a legitimate strike issue, the engineers stayed out for better pay and improved working conditions, while appealing the court ruling.

The American pilots quit work Dec. 20 for more pay, shorter hours and pay or other compensation for nonflying time away from home. Under their old contract they received a top of $1,602 monthly.

10-Inch Snow Predicted for Midwest Area

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (AP) — A large part of the Midwest and Southwest will greet the new year under a cover of snow, four to ten inches deep.

After covering New Mexico earlier this week, a moisture-laden storm moved east and north Tuesday. It cut deep into Texas, then dropped four to eight inches of snow on parts of Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri.

Its slow movement was expected to continue across southeast Kansas into northeast Missouri. Along the south and eastern edges of the snow—roughly from St. Louis southwest to north central Arkansas and northeast Texas — there was sleet and freezing rain.

Thirteen deaths, most from traffic accidents, have been attributed to the storm.

Roads were hazardous throughout the storm area.

The wet weather in the midcontinent was expected to extend over wide areas during the day, from eastern sections of Texas and Oklahoma northeastward through Tennessee and Kentucky and across the Ohio Valley into the southern Great lakes.

A band of freezing rain will divide the occasional rain to the south from the snow in the north, extending from northern Texas northeastward through central Arkansas, Kentucky and southern sections of the Ohio Valley.

their questions that they consider the assault charges less serious than the shakedown accusation.

Grant conceded under quetioning that he owes more than $3,000 on an automobile and the house trailer where he lives with his family. He received a base pay of $220 monthly plus an allotment of $170 for his wife and three sons. His oldest boy is four.

'We Can Manage'

"It's hard right now, but we manage," Grant said.

Of the four specific charges against Grant, the one carrying the heaviest penalty is intentional assault and inflicting grievous bodily injury. The maximum for that is six years in prison.

The other assault charge carries a six-month sentence. The charges of soliciting gifts and receiving a $230 payoff are each punishable by two years. A dishonorable discharge could go with conviction on any of the counts.

The defense conceded that $10 was collected from each of the 69 recruits in the All-Ohio Steel Valley Platoon. But Grant's attorneys argued that the $690 went to pay such recruit expenses as laundry, shoe repair and platoon photographs.

Grant maintained that Pvt. Raymond Theisler of Youngstown, Ohio, was accidentally clipped by another recruit's rifle. He also flatly denied banging the head of Pvt. William K. Hartman with a mess cup.

Theisler's wound required 11 stitches. Called as a prosecution witness, Theisler testified he was sleeping on the rifle range at the time and could not say if Grant had hit him or not.

Okay 3-Day Truce

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — A three-day New Year truce initiated by the Chinese Nationalists went into effect today.

The Communist command in Fukien province agreed to the tacit Nationalist appeal for a 72-hour cease-fire in the sporadic exchange of shelling around the Nationalist-held offshore islands.

The Quemoy Island garrison had announced that the defenders would not reply to artillery fire for three days starting today.

Two Missiles Fired; Both of Them Blow Up

Tests Conclude Busy, Fruitful Year; Latest Failures Not Alarming

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A busy and fruitful 1958 ended with a double bang at this space age shooting gallery.

A Navy Polaris test rocket and an Air Force Thor were launched Tuesday before the New Year's Day shutdown of the test center and both exploded in the sky in a day of spectacular fireworks.

A year ago, with the Sputniks orbiting ominously overhead and the Soviet Union holding a massive lead in the space race, two failures so close together would have plunged the nation into deepest gloom.

Failures Produce Success

Today, America could laugh them off, for out of such failures have come successes which have put the free world in a neck-and-neck struggle with the Reds.

In one momentous year, this base has launched several satellites, one a 4½-ton Atlas. It has broken the intercontinental barrier with an Atlas which flew 6,325 miles. It has developed a host of other long and short range missiles. And it has sent probes hurtling thousands of miles out into space toward the moon.

May Be Ready by 1960

The Polaris, a solid fuel forerunner of an intermediate range ballistic missile which may be ready by 1960 for firing from nuclear powered submarines roaming the seas, went up in midday. It looked good for 90 seconds, scooting along at 5,000 miles an hour.

Then the range safety officer noted that the missile was drifting off course and pressed a button that blew it to pieces.

About 10 hours later, a fiery Thor blasted off the Cape. It looked bad from the beginning. Instead of climbing straight up, it leaned at an awkward angle.

Again, 90 seconds after firing, the safety officer stabbed the destruct button. The Thor exploded and a huge funnel of reddish flame marked its plunge into the Atlantic just off the Cape.

The Polaris was the third of its type to be fired, and the third to blow up. The Navy, however, was highly pleased with its performance. Valuable lessons were learned about the structural integrity and the propulsion force of the missile.

Previously, 11 of 14 Thors fired during 1958 were reported to have made accurate flights.

Governors of 8 States Invited To Visit Russia

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet Union has invited the governors of eight states and Hawaii to visit Russia this summer.

The invitation went to the nine members of the Governors Conference Executive Committee, which met in Chicago three weeks ago.

John E. Ivey Jr., executive vice president of New York University, said Tuesday night that NYU and the Institute of International Education hope to serve as joint sponsors if funds to finance the trip can be raised.

A number of foundations are being approached to underwrite the cost.

The governors would visit the Soviet Union in June.

Marvin R. Johnston, general commercial engineer, will succeed Mr. Cole as general commercial manager of the company. Mr. Johnston, of 444 Forest St., came to Marion as senior traffic engineer in 1950, and has held the responsibility of general commercial engineer since December, 1951. He started his career in the telephone business in 1940 with the General Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Stearnes, who resides at 81 Carolyn Dr., began his telephone career in 1945 with the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. He has served General of Ohio as commercial superintendent since November, 1956.

RICHARD N. COLE
Named Administrative Assistant

In the other organizational change, Howard E. Conley, district commercial manager for the Marion district, has been appointed division commercial superintendent of the central division, succeeding Mr. Stearnes.

Mr. Conley, who resides near Morral, entered the telephone business in Marion in 1948 with General Telephone Co. of Ohio. He has been employed in his present position since May, 1958.

The organization changes will become effective Jan. 1, Mr. Williams said.

Trouble With Pigeons Comes To a Head in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor George Christopher's predecessor in office, Elmer Robinson, warred upon pigeons and gradually became ex-Mayor Robinson.

Mayor Christopher, mindful of the wrath Robinson aroused among bird lovers, has laid low on the pigeon question.

But Monday it sought him out in the person of Councilwoman Mrs. Kathy Zahn, from Albany, across the bay.

She came bearing the scars on her soul suffered by the unwary in all exposed places in this city of gulls and pigeons — Union Square, Civic Center Plaza, Fisherman's Wharf.

Something should be done, Mrs. Zahn told Christopher. A pigeon had messed up her hat.

"The first this happened I consered it an act of God," she said, "But it's happened five times since.

"Some of these pigeons are nice and plump. Let's catch them all with nets and give them to the needy to eat."

The mayor shied.

"Don't you have pigeons in Albany?

"We," she replied, "have a law."

"Any seagulls?"

"I've never seen one."

Would Mrs. Zahn be interested in a new hat?

"I'll settle for a cup of coffee and a progress report in two weeks," she purred.

"I'll put my department heads right to work on this," the mayor promised. "But I wish you'd let me buy you a new hat."

"I have 10 hats. I'm noted for my hats," she said, as she marched, head up, from City Hall into the plaza beneath the circling pigeons.

Mountbatten Promoted

LONDON (AP) — Adm. Earl Mountbatten, 58-year-old service chief of the Royal Navy and one of the British nobility's brightest figures, will become the country's first military man next July.

The government announced today that Mountbatten, first sea lord since April 1955 and the uncle of Prince Philip, would become chairman of the Chiefs of Staff Committee, the British equivalent of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The Soviet Union was reminded that a big portion of East Germany was captured during the war against Nazi Germany by American troops.

Large parts of German provinces were turned over to the Soviets under occupation agreements Sept. 12, 1944; and May 1, 1945, the note said. The Allied foothold in Berlin was agreed to by the Soviets, it said, as part of a deal whereby the Soviets got one-third of its present zone in East Germany.

This passage in the note seemed aimed at warning the Kremlin that the Soviets would endanger their legal claim to those East German areas if they persist in seeking to abolish four-power occupation of Berlin.

Responsible authorities meanwhile expressed belief that Deputy Soviet Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan's forthcoming visit to Washington is part of a Soviet maneuver tied to the Berlin crisis.

Many diplomats saw Mikoyan's trip, starting during the first week of January, as a Kremlin move to take some of the teeth out of the tensions created by Khrushchev's plan.

Mikoyan, expected to arrive Saturday or Sunday, may disclose some Soviet formula, it was felt, which would avoid any head-on clash between the East and West over Berlin's future.

DiSalle Faces Deficit in Staff Payroll Fund

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle will face a deficit in the office fund used to pay his staff, including himself, unless the State Emergency Board does something about replenishing it.

Records in the State Finance Department show there is only $28,869 left in the salary fund to handle the governor's office payroll until June 30.

That won't be enough to pay DiSalle's half-year salary of $12,500 and the half-year salaries of his three assistants, amounting to $18,000.

In addition, the rest of the governor's office staff must be paid from this fund.

The Legislature made an appropriation of $84,940 for salaries in outgoing Gov. C. William O'Neill's office during the current fiscal year, which started July 1, as of Tuesday, the records show $61,071 had been spent.

O'Neill has had five assistants in his office for a total salary, excluding his own, of $58,000 a year in addition to wages for his clerical help.

The retiring governor and the five assistants will get paid up until O'Neill leaves office Jan. 12, and that will make further dent in the salary fund balance.

O'Neill ran short of money in his office fund in the previous fiscal year and the State Emergency Board granted him an additional $40,000 to make up the deficiency. This is probably what DiSalle will have to do before June 30.

a definite program for the farm operations during 1959.

The board's report noted that about the only work done at the Children's Home in recent years has been accomplished mainly through the generosity of local civic and fraternal clubs and organizations. The board pointed out that it is obvious "that a building of this size and age cannot be kept in a state of good repair through volunteer financing alone."

The Child Welfare Board was commended for its job of supervising the operation of the Children's Home over the years. The report said that this group has noted the needs at the home but could accomplish only so much as available funds will allow.

The members of the board were unanimous in praising the "excellent work being done at both institutions by the superintendents and matrons."

The report concluded with the observation that the suggestions and recommendations are not to be construed as an attempt to criticize or condemn the county commissioners, but are merely made to point up the needs at the Children's Home.

Five of the six members of the board of visitors made the trip to the two homes. They were Thayer L. Martin, Wayne H. Kuhn, Mrs. Paul Frye, Mrs. Catherine Harruff and George O. Thomas. The sixth member is Miss Mary Jo Stafford.

A company official said that the situation appears "hopeless" and that it "seemed evident that the union had no intention of settling the strike this year."

Both the company statement and the union statement reported that no further negotiating sessions have been scheduled.

The company further reported today that its subcontracting program, which was stepped up last week, is now in full operation. The company expects to have sufficient machines available next spring to meet customer demands, according to the company statement.

The long negotiating session that ended this morning began at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday and was continuous.

Democrats Come Marching In

Finance Big Problem for Legislature

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state government of Ohio is nothing more than a corporate family of nine million people.

Its money problems are only slightly more complicated than those of any family.

Last of a Series

Ohio's money problem is devastatingly similar to that of many regular families: In the last year, while trying to maintain its standard of living, the state government has been spending more than it was taking in.

Like most regular families, the state had a nestegg tucked away against a rainy day.

The rainy day came. Income fell off in the 1957-58 recession. The word went down through all state departments: "Hold down on spending!" Just like in any family when such an order is handed down, there was some resentment.

General Grumbling

There was a general grumbling: "There are plenty of other places to save money. Why pick on our department?"

Even though the economy order was out, the Ohio family could not save its bank account. The treasury surplus inherited by the administration of Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill went down the drain. The Ohio family will be lucky to end its two-year bookkeeping period next June 30 with any money in the bank at all.

An example of how Ohio's budget has been stretched to meet this year's money crisis:

When an ordinary family has a youngster in college, for instance, one-third of his quarterly tuition is set aside every month in order that enough money might be available to pay the bill every three months.

That's what the state once did with the state school subsidy which is paid quarterly. It set aside 14 million dollars a month so it could pay 42 million dollars in subsidy to the schools every three months.

Abandoned System

But some months ago, when the financial pinch started to get tight the state abandoned the set-aside policy. Under the changed system, at the end of two months of a school-subsidy quarter, the state could point to 28 million dollars in the treasury as an "uncommitted cash balance." Of course, the following month the state was obligated to pay that 28 millions to schools — plus another 14 millions—but the device made the treasury look good for a while.

If those same 28 millions had been reserved and marked "committed to schools," there would have been little or no balance. And that, the administration believed, would not have been good politics.

Like any family, the state of Ohio has certain fixed expenses—fixed, that is, unless they go up. They almost never go down.

Many families find it necessary to contribute to the support of an elder relative. So does Ohio—in the form of aid for the aged.

Many families help relatives who are down on their luck. So does Ohio—in the form of poor relief.

Pay for Education

Families with children — and those without—pay for the education of the children in one form or another. So does Ohio—in the form of a subsidy to the state's public schools. That contribution now is approaching 200 million dollars a year.

If a family can afford servants, it must pay their salaries. Ohio has some 40,000 employes.

If there is mental illness in the family, the cost of the care for the individual comes out of the family income if the family can afford it. The state is in no such fortunate position. If private families cannot afford to care for their own mentally ill, the state must care for them at its own expense.

As more babies are born into the Ohio family, the state's expenses go up. As the years roll on, they must be educated, some need care in hospitals for the retarded and mentally ill and, eventually, some may need state help for the blind, the disabled or the aged.

The state family through its governing body—the legislature—has established the family's policy on the level of help it will give each member who needs it. As the family grows, it costs more to maintain that level.

In the last two years fixed state expenses have been higher than the state income. The Ohio family still is growing.

There are two ways to go:

1. Cut the level of help the state will give each citizen who needs it.

2. Increase the state income to meet increased needs. That means new or increased taxes.

What is your guess?

Higher taxes? You betcha!

Effects on Livestock Discussed

Farm Economists at OSU Recognize Development of Vertical Integration

This the third in a series on vertical integration, a concept of agricultural economics brought about by the rapidly changing farm picture. This article will deal with current developments toward vertical integration, with conclusions based on findings in a survey, conducted by farm economists at Ohio State University.

How important is the consideration being given the new agricultural concept of vertical integration?

According to a report compiled by the agriculture extension service of Ohio State University, the interest is more than might be expected.

For, while the service suggests that the overall volume of vertical integration in the livestock industry is, at present, small, it goes on to suggest that it is almost certain to increase.

What about the several segments of the livestock industry in Ohio?

Take hogs. At the present time, researchers say, there has been no appreciable amount of integrating here. But the likelihood of an increase is more evident each day.

CONTRACTS already entered into have included specifications for quality of breeding stock used, farrowing periods, weight to be marketed, and, in some cases, the offering of price differentials for meat-type animals.

The service points out that contracts vary in accordance with local conditions. In one case, the grower may have to furnish the feeder pigs, facilities, veterinary services, labor, sell at certain weights, pay for feed on a cost-per-100-pounds basis and at a cost to be established by a pre-determined formula. The supplier would furnish and deliver grain, supplement and sanitation products and maintain necessary records.

In another instance, the farmer may furnish only land and labor, with the integrator coming across with all other resources.

When and if vertical integration becomes prevalent in the swine industry, the service observes, contracts will probably be uniform.

The program is also starting in some Ohio localities in beef production. Here again, contractural conditions differ.

On one hand, a farmer having a barn and yard not in use may be interested in signing a contract with a feed dealer who agrees to buy the feeders and furnish the feed for feeding. It is up to the farmer to put up the facilities, labor and time. The farmer, for his pains, may get 10 cents per day per head for his part in the program.

ALL FARMERS won't go for this setup, but extensionists point out that the operator is assured at least a steady income. And, the integrator, in most cases, assumes the risks.

As for sheep, vertical integration has been applied for several years in the western states. They have done so to insure a supply of lambs for slaughter when farmers could or would not furnish sufficient numbers at periods of the year desired by packers.

However, whether the practice becomes widespread in Ohio is, according to the report, problematical. At present, integration involving sheep in the state "is not widespread."

The question of raising broilers has already been well publicized. Suffice it to say that as of today, over 90 per cent of the broilers produced in commercial broiler areas are under a program featuring the premises of one or another of the phases of integration.

Some Ohio growers, experts point out, are receiving a straight 10 cents per bird, while others are getting five cents plus a bonus based on feed conversion and-or a share of the profits.

Several forms of this economic concept are evident in dairying, although, the report notes, some of these date back many years and are not currently on the increase.

One of the most ancient of these forms is the cooperative which has entered the field of processing and distribution of fluid milk. Organizations such as these have, in some instances, even taken over the transportation of milk from farm to market, while others have acquired facilities for processing surpluses.

CHAIN STORES, the report emphasizes, have, in some cases, begun processing milk to sell through their own stores. Secondly, processors have acquired stores, through which they market their own milk and dairy products. These operations, extensionists say, "are well established in Ohio at present."

Finally, there is, to an extent, some integration connected with the raising of fruits and vegetables in the Buckeye state, more especially with regard to processing crops.

And, the brightest future here is still, the report suggests, in this field.

In short, vertical integration is not a Utopian notion that, perchance, will evolve in the unforeseeable future. It is a concept of economics that has gained a foothold on the parapet of American agriculture and is exerting its strength in a surprising fashion.

The extent to which it is successful in the years to come rests, it appears, with the farmers who will weigh acceptance of this new programming against their income potential and livelihood if they continue to "go it alone."

Field and Furrow

By Allan Bovey

Time was when the farmer was considered something of a hayseed. It was generally conceded that he needed little more than a strong back to accomplish his job.

That concensus has largely gone down the drain, as farming has become, increasingly, a task for the man with the ability to manage as well as to work.

This week, Wallace Barr, extension economist at Ohio State University, makes some predictions for 1959 that indicate the need for shrewder operating than ever before for farmers anticipating a profit at year's end.

Mr. Barr figures that net farm income in 1959 will be from 5 to 10 per cent less than it was this year, as a result of lower prices paid for pork, poultry and fruits and vegetables. And soil bank payments will be smaller.

Costs, however, will continue their upward trend, Economist Barr thinks, averaging in the neighborhood of four to five per cent higher than they were for 1958. What's more, costs over which the farmer has little control—interest, taxes and wages—will all be on the rise.

Feed costs, Mr. Barr suggests, may be a shade lower, but not enough to offset rises in other operating expenses.

In a word, the farmer will be obliged to exercise an even greater modicum of efficiency than was necessary this year in order to make out in 1959. Good management, more than ever before, will take precedence over the strong back.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushshev, reporting last week in Pravda, primary Russian news medium, revealed some interesting figures of the number of man-hours required in the U.S.S.R. and this country to grow 220 pounds of produce.

The statistics:

	U.S.	USSR State Farms	USSR Collec. Farms
Grain	1.0	1.8	7.1
Cotton	18.8	29.8	42.8
Milk	4.7	9.9	14.7
Hogs	6.3	43.0	103.0

AT THE END of the current fiscal, the U.S. Department of Agriculture will have spent $6 9 billion for buying and storing farm surpluses—more than twice the combined outlays of the State, Justice, Interior, Commerce and Labor departments.

This startling statistic, released this week by the USDA, emphasizes the futility of government-sponsored farm programs in recent years.

The department report notes that though planted acreage was the smallest since 1918, this country's total 1958 crop yield was a whopping 11 per cent over the previous highs of 1948, 1956 and 1957. Wheat and corn outputs, already stored in abundance, set new records per acre.

Last week, Ezra Benson, agriculture's secretary, costing a baleful eye on the sad situation, voiced the urgency of a change in policies. Said he: "We must complete our revision of the farm programs without delay."

THE TRUTH IN the economic tenet that supply should equal demand in order for farmers to realize the best market price for any agricultural commodity has never been more adequately substantiated than in recent years, when periodically, cattle and hogs, glutting packing houses, have sent prices tumbling.

Some farmers have gotten the notion that cooperatively raising livestock, especially hogs, might be the answer to higher prices.

"Stop dreaming," is the admonition of W. W. Cochrane, president of the American Farm Economics Association, who, talking to 500 farmers attending sessions of the Midwest Swine Marketing Conference in Ames, Ia., declared that "If you are dreaming of pushing $12 hogs to $15 hogs next year through a marketing cooperative, stop it right now. You've got to be able to control total supply to make that kind of a jump."

Will Enter Contest

BUCYRUS — Miss Peggy Hipsher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Hipsher of near Crestline, will represent Crawford County in the district Prince of Peace contest at the Evangelical and Reformed Church at Vermilion, Sunday night. Her alternate is Dennis Longnecker, who lives in the Tiro area.

4-H Unit Sets Dates for '59 Slate of Events

The Marion County 4-H Council met Monday night, wi th21-emm met Monday night, with 12 members present. Purpose of the get-together was to plan 1959 activities.

A countywide achievement night was set for Jan. 19 at 8 p.m. in the Green Camp School. All 4-H advisers will be in Lima Jan. 28 to attend an all-day conference in Cleman's Restaurant.

The annual reorganizational meeting of the Marion County Tractor Maintenance Club will be an event of March 4, with April 18 set for planting approximately 40 trees on the county fairgrounds. All of the area's clubs particiate in this community project.

It is hoped that all clubs will be organized for 1959 by May 1. There were 48 active units in the county this year, with a membership of 851.

The council agreed to renew the contest to determine the county's healthiest 4-H boy and girl, with winners to take part in the state competition. And, June 3 has been set for the livestock judging program This event was formerly held in conjunction with the county fair.

Finally, the awards committee for 1959 was selected as follows: Larry Dupre, chairman; and Mrs. Lowell Douce, Mrs. George Lust, Dwight Holt and John Hite.

Good Management Seen Key to Good Ewe-Lamb Profits

Ewes, sheep experts declare, should gain from 20 to 35 pounds during their 146-day gestation period.

And, since lambing time is soon to be upon many farmers in this and area counties, sheepmen are urged to allow between one-half and one pound of grain for each ewe daily for a month to six weeks prior to lambing. This can be either corn or oats.

In addition, ewes should have access to plenty of salt and water, be tagged and have their feet trimmed. Sheepmen should also look to shearing wool-blind individuals.

Experts caution farmers to keep ewe flocks out of corn fields, since they may get too much grain. Moreover, stalks are too coarse and low in quality to help produce good strong lambs. Gleaning is a job better left to feeder lambs, they assert.

In any event, management is the key to profitable sheep raising and how many lambs are saved depends, to a large degree, on how the sheep raiser is going to make out in 1959.

Farm Bureau To Back Council for Area Youths

The Marion County Farm Bureau Federation will sponsor a rural youth council, according to Lyle Hinkle, organizational director of the local Federation.

Towards that end, a meeting has been scheduled for Jan. 8 in the UAW Union Hall on Leader St.

The council will be composed of individuals 17 years of age and over, both single and married. Plans for such a group will be discussed at the forthcoming session, Mr. Hinkle says.

Chicago Barrow Show Is Slated for Feb. 17-18

Plateau for Butterfat Is Gained by Holstein Cow

The Holstein - Friesian Association of America has noted the recording of its 1,000 cow with a 1,000 pounds or more butterfat mark, a new milestone in Holstein breed improvement.

To Carnation Lola Lassie Spofford, a 6-year-old Carnation Farms cow, goes credit for establishing the record. Lola pailed 25,389 pounds of milk and 1,010 pounds of butterfat on a 365-day test.

The first Holstein and first cow of any breed to enter the 1,000 pound circle was Pontiac Clothilde De Kol, which started the parade back in 1912.

Top Post of Hampshire Group Goes to Ohioan

A. B. Evans of Cedarville in Ohio's Greene County, has been elected president of the Hampshire Swine Registry. The vice president is Wallie Nelson of Valley Springs, S. D.

It was noted at the organization's annual meeting that the registry recorded 56,768 individual pedigree during the last fiscal year, in addition to listing 27,946 Hampshire litters. The total of 84,714 certificates issued was the greatest total in the history of the breed.

NO CLOTHES, BUT SHOES

Natives in the bush country of Guinea in West Africa wear practically no clothes. But, all carefully wear leather soled sandals to protect their feet.

Caldwell Tells How Poinsettia May Be Saved

If you got a poinsettia plant for Christmas, there are "tricks of the trade" for keeping it in good shape the rest of the winter.

So says James Caldwell, Ohio State University floriculturist, who advises that these plants be kept where there is plenty of light and where the night temperature is not likely to fall below 60 degrees.

Poinsettias need to be watered, too, Mr. Caldwell notes, but cautions that this be done only when the soil becomes dry, guarding against water-logging.

When the plant drops its leaves (usually in January or February), don't toss the plant in the direction of the trash barrel. This is a natural phenomenon and all that is required is that half the top growth be removed. Stop watering the plant and place the pot in a warm basement. Then, water every two or three weeks, just often enough to prevent shriveling

The poinsettia can be repotted in early May, putting each plant in an individual pot or replanting them together. Finally, bury the plant, pot and all, outside in a sunny location.

Says Extensionist Caldwell: "Poinsettias can be kept on hand with just a little effort. Adherence to these simple directions is all it takes."

Area Hog Raisers Presented Honors

At least two area swine breeders were cited for outstanding jobs at the 10th anniversary meeting of the Ohio Swine Improvement Association in Columbus recently.

Cecil Robinson of near Delaware and Beard and McClintock of near Cardington, were recipients of accomplishment awards for certifying the greatest number of litters per breed.

Mr. Robinson is a prominent Delaware County Hampshire breeder, while Beard and McClintock Landrace program is rated one of the best in Morrow County.

These two awards were among 10 given by the association to producers raising meat-type hogs.

Barrow Show Date Set

Sept. 15-18 has been set for the 1959 14th annual National Barrow Show. The event will be held in Austin, Minn., again. The time and place was chosen at a meeting of the National Association of Swine Records, together with Austin representatives in Chicago.

Top Crawford Young Farmer Will Be Chosen

Plans are being made in Crawford County for the selection of the area's outstanding young farmer.

This year's contest is being sponsored by the Bucyrus Junior Chamber of Commerce, with Richard Gephart the chairman.

The 1957 winner, Ralph F. Brause of the Sulphur Springs community, went on to win state contest laurels.

Nominations for the award, according to Russell Miller, county extension director, will be accepted for any area farmer between 21 and 35 years of age who is making an outstanding contribution to farming through good agricultural practices.

Top prize locally, besides the chance to compete on the state level, is a $25 savings bond and a plaque.

Purpose of the contest, Wilford Denzer, president of the Jaycees says, is to "increase public interest in the farmer and to create, through example, more interest by the area's youth in farming as a career."

Wyandot Dairymen Are Planning Castalia Tour

Plans are currently being made for Wyandot County dairymen to tour the Castalia substation, according to Bill Mitchell, county extension director.

A feature of the tour will be an experiment showing different types of housing and results that can be attained. The group making the junket is also expected to view the atomic reactor presently being installed near Sandusky.

Still Plenty High

Prices for New Year's Celebration Unchanged

NEW YORK (AP)—New Year's Eve at most of the nation's leading hotels and night spots will cost you about the same as last year—which, as you may recall, was plenty.

Celebrants who want dinner and entertainment will pay up to $37 50 a person — and extra for the drinks.

A survey of major cities turned up no sign that the night spots are upping prices noticeably this year, though the trend for flat prices on New Year's Eve has long been upward.

Tab About $37.50

At both places dinner, dancing, funny hats, horns and entertainment will cost about $37.50 including tax.

At the Waldorf's Empire Room that price will include listening to singer Eartha Kitt, Emil Coleman's orchestra and Gypsy violinist Bela Bebai.

Most well-heeled celebrants who want to do the evening up right in major cities will be paying about $25 a person, plus up to $1.25 a drink extra.

That is the price in top spots in Miami Beach and Chicago, the plusher clubs on Los Angeles' Sunset Strip, and New York's ultra-swank Twenty-one and El Morocco.

Two big, brassy spots in New York, with elaborate floor shows and filet mignon dinners, are billing all-night customers according to where they sit. At both the Copacabana and the Latin Quarter, it will be $15, $20 or $25 per person, depending upon location.

A Few Bargains Available

There will be a few bargains.

At a Washington night club it will cost only $10 plus tax per person for dinner, one cocktail, souvenirs and noisemakers, the Ink Spots, a chorus line, singers and dancers—and breakfast.

The Waldorf will open its grand ballroom for a public New Year's Eve party for the first time in history. In addition to supper, hats, noisemakers and the music of Les and Larry Elgart, all the ladies will get gifts of French perfume—also for only $10 a head.

Probably the best buy will be the Miami Beach Kennel Club, which opens Wednesday night offering a full-course dinner, music and favors for only $5 a person.

Obey Khrushchev Edict

Russians Ration Vodka For New Year's Gaiety

MOSCOW (AP) — Muscovites jamming the night spots on New Year's Eve probably will have to depend on champagne or other wines, not traditional and more potent vodka, to make them merry.

The Soviet capital's downtown hotel dining rooms, restaurants and cafes are booked solid for the gayest night of the Russian year.

Many are expected to restrict vodka drinkers to 100 grams — about one shot — for the evening, in accordance with Premier Nikita Khrushchev's new edict in the stepped-up campaign to discourage drunkenness.

But the proprietors assured inquirers that wines, champagne and lighter intoxicants would be available in quantities limited only by the drinker's pocketbook.

Khrushchev in a speech Oct. 17 said a new law was being written under which a customer could get only one shot of strong drink in a restaurant. "Those who want five glasses will have to go to five restaurants," said the Premier. "They'll sober up while making the rounds."

Most officials believed the new directive would not become fully effective until New Year's Day. But many restaurants began restricting their customers last Saturday, and temperatures ranging to 30 below zero discouraged would-be drunks from making the rounds. On New Year's Eve they probably can't get into restaurants where they don't have reservations.

For the celebration most restaurants are offering a special dinner with wine, champagne, music, dancing and 100 grams of vodka per customer. The cost is 150 rubles, $37.50 at the official rate. Anything else will be extra.

HPM Workers Pay Visit To Cardington Friend

CARDINGTON — During the 16 years that Russell Fink of Cardington was employed at the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing Co. at Mount Gilead, he made many friends among his co-workers.

About a year ago, Mr. Fink became ill and had to leave his job. Last Wednesday, Christmas Eve, a group of his old friends remembered him and dropped down to Cardington to bring him his usual morning snack. Besides the sandwich and soft drink they also brought along a number of Christmas presents from the workers at HPM. Making the presentation were Dale Knachel, Kenneth Cook, Everett Sheese, Herbert Orsborn, Robert Neal, Russell Haldeman and Richard Brown.

Invitation for 'Barons,' He Says

Meany Hits Disinterest Of Union Rank and File

By VICTOR RIESEL

This apparently exclusive report that indignation has gone out of style was deliberately held up by this column to avoid watering your Christmas cheer. An outpouring of protest may be a high-buttoned shoe sensitivity. But this tale of nine families with 18 children — in holiday week made bleak because their breadwinners fight for their rights — should be told.

VICTOR RIESEL

I write of unemployed men, made jobless because they fought a local union barony. They are not workless and payless for lack of skills. They are strong men who can handle massive cranes.

They spent the pre-holiday days at quickie odd tasks. One sold puppies in a pet store at $5 a day. Another delivered Christmas packages for a few hours at $1.25 for each back - breaking 60 minutes. Others found laborers' work wherever they could — and some couldn't. Their families ate less.

I could tell you their names. But one will do. He is Bill Wilkins, one of the "boys" who hit the beach at Salerno and walked in the rain through valleys of death.

HE WOUND UP in a Nazi prisoner of war concentration camp so the swastika would not wave for a 1,000 years. He is one of the jobless.

For five years I have watched him battle the machine controlling the Long Island Operating Engineers Local 138.

Bill was with me on the air the night I stopped a glass full of concentrated sulphuric acid. He wept at my hospital bed because he had left me an hour too soon.

But there have been no tears for Bill Wilkins and his good companions though they have fought so hard and so long — and have had at their side, from time to time, the McClellan committee, the national AFL-CIO leaders, the courts, the clergy and the labor board.

But such are the laws of the land that the local union boss, Bill DeKoning Jr. can control a union hiring hall and he is not one to regard his enemies even at Christmas time.

So once more the embattled men began a weary march to the forces of the state. Yet in this season of holiday compassion I wonder not at their angry fight.

I WONDER NOW at the rock hewn, iron hand in the iron glove —William DeKoning of the Operating Engineers. He is their enemy. He is the symbol so many have fought in controlled local unions across the land. Change the names. Change the sets. The play's the same everywhere in locals such as this one.

I wonder only that the public forgets and lets men fight alone. I wonder only at the rank-and-file of scores of locals who forget an old labor chant that an injury to one is an injury to all.

Nor is this wonderment eased by a report the other day I received from friends in Connecticut. In that state the Legislature passed a law requiring all unions to file annual financial reports. Some 600 unions reported. It was presumed that the rank-and-file would be consumed with passionate interest in what happened to their money.

TOWARDS THIS year's end I checked. I was told that of the tens of thousands of workers, only one man came to inquire. I thought of the words of Mr. Labor himself, AFL - CIO president George Meany.

Not too long ago he hit the union convention circuit. He spoke thus: "In finding the answer from our trade union point of view we must look at the problem and say: 'How did these things happen?'

"I tell you why they happened. They happened because the unions got away from the members or the members got away from the unions. . . . It can't happen if union membership meetings are fully attended and if reports are made periodically to those meetings. . . .

"We've got to find some way to bring about an attendance of the workers at the meetings of their unions . . . there is something fundamentally wrong in the approach to the trade movement by some of the people who have come into it in recent years. . . . If the concept is that the union is some sort of business entity and you pay your dues to it and then look to results, then . . . people who are dishonest and have motives of their own . . . will come in and take over. . . ."

Doesn't anybody care?

Admirals, Generals Fill Scrapbook for Woman

KEARNY, N.J. (AP) — Mrs. Joseph Bersey's scrapbook is filled with pictures of soldiers and sailors—the leading generals and admirals of World War II.

She began collecting autographed pictures of them after she wrote Gen. Eisenhower in 1945 sending him a four - leaf clover and he sent back a signed photograph and a letter. She has 44 pictures now and sends a Christmas card to all her "gallery."

Star Infielder Wages Battle With Disease

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Red Schoendienst is flat on his back in a hospital, convalescing from tuberculosis, but an avalanche of mail shows the fans haven't forgotten him.

The graceful second baseman of the Milwaukee Braves said the thousands of get-well letters have helped him in his determination to return to big league baseball.

"I'll play again," the 35-year-old Schoendienst said in an interview with the Globe-Democrat, "even if I miss next year."

Several nuns at the Mt. St. Rose Hospital occasionally have been pressed into service to help sort his mail. His father-in-law, Tim O'Reilly, one day counted 2,136 letters and cards in a box. Four other such boxes are in Red's room.

Red is optimistic about the chances of a third straight pennant for the Braves next year even without his help.

"We've got too much good pitching, too much power and too many good boys coming up to be denied," he said.

Red's physician is guarded in his comments about Schoendienst's condition.

But he is an excellent patient, the doctor said. "He's a smart fellow, playing every angle to get well as fast as he can."

Review

They recorded their fourth straight Buckeye Conference crown and their third straight district title. In the state meet, Harding finished ninth.

THE CROSS COUNTRY squad also recorded a perfect dual meet year, winning 10 straight for its fourth perfect year in a row and eighth in Harding's history. It was district runner-up, fourth in the state meet and first in the Ohio AAU meet. Bill Huckaba and Otis Scott each won honorable mention rankings.

A national high school track ranking released during the year showed Harding ranking 166th across the country and ninth in Ohio. However, on the basis of this year's performance, including three new records set by Middleton, the Prexies should climb even higher.

The Kigdom of Jordan has a population of about 400,000 living on about five per cent of the nation's total geographical area.
